HEAD COACH • MARYLAND '68
20TH SEASON AT MARYLAND (397-215, .649)
31ST SEASON OVERALL (604-343, .638)

2002 COACH OF THE YEAR

Since returning to the College Park campus in 1989, Gary Williams (Maryland '68) has led his alma mater's basketball program from a period of troubled times to an era of national prominence. With 12 NCAA Tournament berths in the last 15 seasons, seven Sweet Sixteen appearances, a pair of consecutive Final Four showings, and the 2002 national championship - the first of its kind in Maryland basketball history - Williams and his staff have literally forged what is now more than a decade of dominance in college basketball's most storied and competitive conference.

Now, with 397 victories as Maryland's head coach, Williams stands as the Terrapins all-time winningest head basketball coach. He passed Charles "Lefty" Driesell, who amassed 348 victories in 18 seasons from 1969 to 1986. The Terrapins have averaged 22.7 wins per year since the 1994-95 season.

With 604 career victories in 30 seasons overall, Williams is the seventh-winningest active head coach in NCAA Division I men's basketball. The rise of the Maryland program has run parallel with Williams' ascent among the most notable in the collegiate coaching fraternity. Williams was one of only five coaches to boast a string of 11 consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament from 1994-2004. He has produced more than 20 wins in nine of his last 12 seasons, and a school-record eight straight from 1996-97 to 2003-04. With 16 career 20-win seasons, Williams ranks seventh among active coaches.

* Williams has been heavily involved in the NABC's Coaches vs. Cancer efforts. The program is a partnership between the National Association of Basketball Coaches and the American Cancer Society. Williams will serve as President of the National Coaches vs. Cancer for 2008-09. He was the recipient of the organization's Inspiration award for 2008 and was the 2005 Champion Award winner.

* In June of 2005, Williams received the University of Maryland's highest alumni honor as he, Connie Chung, Renaldo Nehemiah and others were inducted into the University of Maryland's Alumni Hall of Fame. Williams was inducted into the University of Maryland's Sports Hall of Fame in 1999.

* In January of 2005, Williams was named one of Washingtonian Magazine's 'Washingtonians of the Year.' He joined others such as Washington D.C. mayor Anthony Williams and Tim Russert of NBC's Meet The Press on the prestigious list.

* In September of 2004, Williams joined Washington Redskins great Darrell Green and Washington Sports and Entertainment Chairman and CEO Abe Pollin as the inaugural inductees into the new Greater Washington Sports Hall of Champions.

* Williams was one of only five coaches in NCAA Division I to have led his team to 11 consecutive NCAA Tournaments, from 1994-2004. The Terrapins' 2008 appearance in the NIT marked the 15th consecutive postseason berth for Williams' teams.

* In guiding his 2004 Terrapins to the ACC Tournament title, Williams became the third coach in league history to lead his team to victory over the top three seeds: No. 3 Wake Forest, No. 2 NC State and No. 1 Duke. By overcoming a 21-point first half deficit against the Wolfpack, Williams engineered the greatest comeback in the 55-year history of the ACC Tournament.

* He is one of seven college basketball coaches since 1980 to guide his alma mater to the Final Four and was the first since 1974 to lead his alma mater to a national title.

* A winner of nearly 70 percent of his NCAA Tournament games while at Maryland, he ranks ninth among active coaches in NCAA Tournament winning percentage overall (27-14, .659), and eighth in wins (27).

- * With his 500th win at NC State on March 2, 2003, the 1968 Maryland grad became the sixth ACC alumnus in conference history to amass as many as 500 coaching victories.
- * With a victory over No. 1 North Carolina in Chapel Hill on Jan. 19, 2008, he is the winningest coach in the nation against top-ranked opponents (7).
- * With 397 wins as Maryland's head coach, Williams is only the sixth mentor in Atlantic Coast Conference history to pass the 300-victory milestone.
- * With 165 career ACC victories as Maryland's coach, Williams ranks as the third-winningest ACC coach in terms of conference victories. Only Dean Smith (364, North Carolina) and Mike Krzyzewski (264, Duke) have more conference wins.

National Prominence

For Williams, now in his 20th season, the accomplishments of the past 15 years have been particularly sweet for a coach whose roots with the program extend to his playing days in the late 1960s, and whose earliest seasons as head coach were tormented by NCAA sanctions he inherited. The two-time Final Four architect and ACC championship mentor is himself a Maryland alumnus, who found glory for a program whose history is filled with a myriad of some of the most prominent names in college basketball annals: Shue, Lucas, Elmore, McMillen, Albert King, Bias, Buck Williams and Walt Williams.

Guiding his Maryland team to the 2004 ACC title remains a poignant source of pride for Williams and all of the Terrapin faithful. Coaching the most youth-filled team in college basketball to an incredible weekend of success, in a year where the ACC was rated the nation's most competitive conference, is not an accomplishment soon to be forgotten by Maryland's fans or the coach himself. The weekend featured three hard-fought, instant-classic contests. In the end, the Terrapins emerged victorious, with their first tournament title since 1984 and only the third in the storied history of the Maryland program. In only three days – three days that were the result of a season's worth of determination, diligence and lessons learned – the Terps were transformed from a team teetering on the edge of the NCAA bubble to a No. 4 seed in the national tournament.

The excitement of the 2004 ACC Tournament conjured images of the Terrapins' NCAA title run only two years earlier. Williams followed a remarkable 2001 Final Four season by compiling the most wins in Maryland history, going 32-4 in 2002. He engineered the school's best regular season ever (25-3), its first outright ACC regular season title since 1980, its first No. 1 seed in an NCAA Tournament, and a return to the Final Four. He earned billing as the league's coach of the year for the first time in his career and later was honored with various national awards, the Victor Award and the New York Athletic Club's Winged Foot Award as the coach of the national champions.

Capping his personal ascent to college basketball's highest pinnacle, Williams added author to his resume in summer 2002 by completing an autobiography entitled Sweet Redemption, with award-winning journalist David Vise. The book captures the essence of Williams' arrival at Maryland, the Terps' rebuilding efforts, their return to the NCAA Tournament in 1994 and their tournament climb ever since.

The rise of the Maryland program has run parallel with Williams' ascent among the most notable in the collegiate coaching fraternity. Williams was one of only five coaches to boast a string of 11 consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament from 1994-2004. He has produced more than 20 wins in 10 of his last 14 seasons, and a school-record eight straight from 1996-97 to 2003-04. Williams' 16 career 20-win seasons places him eighth among active coaches.

Williams, 397-215 at Maryland, boasts a 604-343 overall record including four years at American (1979-82), four at Boston College (1983-86) and three at Ohio State (1987-89). In 30 seasons as a Division I head coach, Williams has coached in 15 NCAA Tournaments and guided nine different teams to the NCAA Sweet Sixteen. One of 26 coaches ever to take three different schools to the NCAA Tournament, Williams has guided teams to the NIT or NCAA Tournament at each of his four coaching stops.

During his run of 11 straight NCAA Tournaments at Maryland, he forged his way to becoming the winningest NCAA Tournament coach in Maryland history with 23 wins and 11 losses – nearly 70 percent. He boasts a 27-14 NCAA Tournament record overall, and has carried Maryland to the Sweet Sixteen in five of the past 11 years.

Terp Alumnus

Williams is one of just two 600-win coaches who now engineer the programs at their respective alma maters, joining Jim Boeheim at Syracuse. With Roy Williams of North Carolina, those three also are the only active coaches to direct their alma maters to multiple Final Four appearances.

In 2001, Williams became just the sixth coach since 1980 to direct his alma mater to the Final Four. A year later, he became the first coach since 1974 to guide his alma mater to a national title. Williams is the only active coach to take his alma mater to consecutive Final Four appearances. He is only the eighth mentor ever to guide his alma mater to consecutive Final Fours, and the first since Houston's Guy Lewis in 1982, 1983 and 1984.

A former Terrapin point guard and 1968 graduate, Williams was a starter under coach Bud Millikan during the 1965, 1966 and 1967 seasons. He was the team captain as a senior and still lists one of his most memorable basketball moments as his experience as a spectator at the 1966 national championship game conducted at Maryland's legendary Cole Field House, between Texas Western and Kentucky.

The former Terrapin student-athlete is also noted as one of just eight former ACC basketball players ever to return to the league as a head coach. On March 2, 2003, Williams became the sixth ACC alumnus to win at least 500 games as Drew Nicholas nailed a buzzer-beating 3-pointer to down NC State, 68-65. With 397 wins as Maryland's head coach, Williams is only the sixth ACC coach to reach the 300 milestone.

Williams Era

Inducted into the University of Maryland Sports Hall of Fame in 1999 and the University's Alumni Hall of Fame in 2005, Williams has placed his alma mater's program back among the elite in the always-competitive Atlantic Coast Conference. The Terps have become synonymous with Duke and North Carolina among the league's most dominant programs, and nationally have become a fixture among weekly polls.

Another success story during the Williams Era at Maryland was the coveted home-court win streak over non-conference foes, which spanned more than 12 years and 87 games. Maryland did not lose a non-league home game under Williams for well over a decade after just his fourth home game as head coach: Dec. 12, 1989 vs. Coppin State. The Terps went undefeated against non-conference foes during the final 12 years of competition at Cole Field House, and ran the record to 87 games before a five-point loss to No. 14 Florida on Dec. 14, 2002 at Comcast Center.

The decade of the 1990s was certainly a decade of resurgence for the Maryland basketball team.

Since Williams' arrival as head coach in the summer of 1989, the Terps have soared to a level of national prominence unmatched during the first century of the program – and unmatched by the vast majority of programs nationwide. Included among the many superior accomplishments during the Williams Era are: a school-record 11 straight NCAA Tournament appearances (1994-04) which included consecutive trips to the Final Four, a national crown and seven Sweet Sixteen appearances; the 2004 ACC title; 11 consecutive upper-division finishes in the ACC including runner-up distinction in 1999, 2000 and 2003; an outright regular season ACC title in 2002 and a shared one in 1995; a school-record 28 victories during the 1999 season which was shattered again with 32 in 2002; four NBA lottery picks, one national Player of the Year, a senior of the year and two ACC Players of the Year; an ACC Tournament MVP; and the first recipient of the nation's Senior CLASS Award.

MARYLAND

2002 NCAA CHAMPIONS
2004 ACC CHAMPIONS

Added for good measure are a NBA Co-Rookie of the Year in Steve Francis (2000), and a preseason top-five ranking three times in four seasons (1999-2002). The result is a program and a coach who have reached icon status.

Williams is the only head coach in school history to guide the Terps to 15 postseason tournament appearances. After guiding his first two Maryland teams to winning records and overcoming an NCAA probationary period resulting from the previous regime, he guided the Terps to an NCAA Tournament appearance in just his fifth season, 1994, and earned a share of the ACC regular-season title in just his sixth, 1995.

Williams' past 15 seasons have brought Maryland from striving for contention in the Atlantic Coast Conference to the realization of the tournament title in 2004; from endeavors to become nationally competitive to the reality of 12 NCAA berths, seven Sweet Sixteen appearances, two Final Fours and of course, the 2002 NCAA championship.

In 2003, Williams took a group of experienced but mostly untested Terps to a third-straight Sweet Sixteen. Along the way, the squad earned its fourth final Top 10 ranking in five seasons, posted a seventh-straight 20-win season, recorded a school-record sixth straight finish in the upper echelon of the ACC by capturing second place, and posted a school-record sixth straight season of double-digit ACC victories. The Terrapins helped Williams to his 600th career coaching victory at Boston College on February 6, 2008.

The 2002 championship itself was a product of maturity and steadfast dedication to a common goal – and included a magical ride through the final season of play at venerable Cole Field House. Williams molded a cast of seven returning players from its national semifinalists of 2001, while senior captains Lonny Baxter, Juan Dixon and Byron Mouton keyed a consistent effort from the beginning of practice in October, through an undefeated (15-0) home campaign at Cole, all the way to a net-cutting evening at the Georgia Dome on April 1. The Terrapins overcame personal obstacles and handled the ACC's and the NCAA Tournament's stiffest challenges. After winning the ACC regular season crown with a 15-1 record, the Terps' ascent to the national championship game included successive victories over perennial powers Wisconsin, Kentucky, Connecticut and Kansas – and a 64-52 defeat of Indiana in the title game. Maryland won the first national title in school history, and earned its very first No. 1 ranking, after becoming the first team in NCAA history to reach the championship game by defeating the highest possible seed in every round.

A year earlier, the Terrapins began the season with a lofty No. 5 ranking by the Associated Press and finished with the No. 4 spot by USA Today/ESPN. The Terps butted heads weekly during an ACC schedule that included five nationally ranked teams, but found their stride late in the year to win 10 of their last 12 games. Of those 10, seven nationally ranked foes fell in the Terps' path to the Final Four, with their only losses coming to eventual NCAA and ACC champion Duke. Local rival Georgetown was dispatched in the Sweet Sixteen, and an 87-73 win over No. 2-ranked and top-seeded Stanford earned Maryland its first NCAA regional title.

The 2000 season may have been one of Williams' greatest coaching accomplishments ever – guiding a “rebuilding” Terrapin team to 25 wins, a second straight second-place finish in the ACC and its first trip to the conference tournament final since 1984. All with a freshman point guard (Steve Blake), three first-year starters (Baxter, Blake, Dixon) and only one senior following the loss of three players to the NBA draft. Two years later, those three first-year starters would become seasoned veterans and national champions.

Four years after tying for his first ACC regular season championship in 1995, Williams led Maryland to a then school-record 28 victories and a school-record 13 ACC victories during the 1999 season. The Terps finished the season ranked No. 5 by the Associated Press – then the highest final ranking since 1975 and only the third time in school history that the program had earned a top five final national ranking. Maryland peaked at No. 2 as it won its first 10 games of the season, and its No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament matched the highest tournament seed in school history.

Williams has been voted as a national coach of the year finalist five times, including his selection in 2002 as the national coach of the year by Basketball America and CBSSportsline.com, and in 2001 by Playboy. Besides the ACC coaching honor, other accolades after the 2002 championship season included the Winged Foot Award as presented by the N.Y. Athletic Club; the Victor Award as presented by the National Academy of Sports Editors; the Harry Litwack Award as Eastern Coach of the Year, presented annually by the Herb Good Club of Philadelphia; and Seaboard Region Coach of the Year honors as named by Basketball Times and Eastern Basketball. In 1998, ACC Athlete Magazine voted him as the ACC Coach of the Year. He received the same honor from College Hoops Illustrated in 2000. Following Maryland's 1997 season, when the Terps advanced to the NCAA Tournament and finished with a 9-7 record in the ACC, he was named as the Seaboard Region Coach of the Year by Basketball Times and Eastern Basketball. He was honored as the district coach of the year in 1981, and in 1983 he was named as the Eastern Coach of the Year.

Williams has cemented his legacy as one of America's greatest recruiters and college coaches — a statement backed not just by consecutive Final Four appearances or 25 winning records in 30 seasons, but by 29 NBA draft choices and the numerous former assistant coaches who now guide their own programs. Williams has mentored seven first-round selections and six NBA lottery picks: Walt Williams (#7 pick, 1992), Joe Smith (#1, 1995), Steve Francis (#2, 1999) and Chris Wilcox (#8, 2002); and Ohio State standouts Jim Jackson (#5, 1992) and Dennis Hopson (#3, 1987). Two-time European player of the year Sarunas Jasikevicius played for four years under Williams and starred in Europe before signing with the Indiana Pacers in the summer of 2005.

Williams was hired on June 13, 1989. He inherited a team that had won only nine games the year before and finished in last place in the ACC. Displaying his coaching abilities immediately, he helped the Terps to 19 wins while advancing to the second round of the National Invitation Tournament – and making him the first coach in school history to lead a team into the postseason in his first year.

Gary Williams was invited to be a part of the inaugural AT&T National, which was hosted by Tiger Woods.

In addition, Maryland's 10-game improvement in the win column during Williams' first season was the largest in school history and second largest in the annals of the ACC by a first-year coach. Only the legendary Press Maravich, who improved NC State's winning ledger by 13 games in his inaugural season (1965), can boast a higher first-year improvement in the win column.

A 1968 graduate of Maryland, Williams lettered as the Terps' starting point guard from 1965-67 under head coach Bud Millikan, serving as team captain during his senior season. It was as a player in the ACC that Williams began developing his basketball philosophy. Playing beside three-year teammates Joe Harrington and Jay McMillen, he studied the game under Millikan, and it was then that he developed his penchant for the full-court pressure defenses for which his teams are now known. He learned his half court man-to-man defense from Millikan, who learned from the legendary Hank Iba. The fast-breaking offense that Williams' teams employ is similar to the style Vic Bubas' Duke teams used when Williams was a player.

Path Back To College Park

Williams began his coaching career alongside Harrington as graduate students at Maryland under freshman coach Tom Davis. The 1969 freshman team finished with a 12-4 record as Williams bonded with Davis in a relationship that would serve him well as his coaching career progressed.

After earning a degree in business, he continued his coaching career as an assistant at Woodrow Wilson High School in Camden, N.J. After one year, he took over as the head coach and guided his first team to a perfect 27-0 record and the state title. Williams has called that season "the ultimate — there wasn't another game to win." Upon winning the NCAA West Region championship in 2001, he fondly recalled his championship at Camden as the "only other time I've ever got to cut down a net."

Williams spent one more year at Woodrow Wilson before accepting an invitation from Davis in 1972 to become an assistant at Lafayette College. While an assistant at Lafayette, Williams also served as the head soccer coach. In 1978, Williams accompanied Davis to Boston College. After one year there, Williams became the head coach at American University.

Williams immediately began making his mark. His 1981 squad set the still-standing school record for victories with a 24-6 mark, won the East Coast Conference championship, and played in the NIT. Williams was named the district coach of the year. American returned to postseason play the next season as the Williams-led Eagles went 21-9 and played in the NIT for the second consecutive year. Only once prior to Williams' arrival had AU attended a postseason tournament, and the Eagles have not returned since. Williams' four-year record at AU was 72-42.

In 1983, Williams succeeded Davis at Boston College. He was once again an instant success, posting a 25-7 record and leading the Eagles to the regular-season championship of the Big East in his first season. Making his first appearance in the NCAA Tournament, Williams directed the Eagles to the Sweet 16. He finished third in the balloting for national coach of the year, and was honored again as the Eastern Coach of the Year by his peers. He went on to duplicate that NCAA Tournament success again in 1985, leading B.C. back to the Sweet Sixteen.

In 1987, Williams accepted the head coaching job at Ohio State, becoming the 10th basketball coach in that school's illustrious history. He succeeded Eldon Miller and once again enjoyed success. In three years, the Buckeyes made three postseason appearances. His first squad defeated then-No. 1 and unbeaten Iowa (coached by Tom Davis) in the regular season, in what would be the first of many giant-killings. During Williams' three-year term at Ohio State, OSU defeated a second-ranked Purdue team, perennial power Kansas and highly regarded Big Ten powers Michigan and Illinois. Each of Williams' three Ohio State teams advanced to postseason play, and he laid the groundwork for the highly successful teams that followed when he left Columbus for College Park.

Williams In The Community

The Terrapins head coach is an active member of the University of Maryland and greater Baltimore-Washington, D.C., community. Williams is involved in extensive charity, fund-raising and public speaking events throughout the year, particularly in the off-season.

In July of 2004, University President C.D. Mote Jr. appointed Williams to co-chair the scholarship component of Maryland's on-going $1 billion Great Expectations campaign. Williams, along with journalist Connie Chung and technology entrepreneur Bruno Pati serve as co-chairs of the scholarship campaign, which is working to raise $350 million. In addition to a pledge of a half-million dollars of his own for academic scholarships at the university, Williams represents the University at various functions and performs various networking duties to spearhead the fund-raising effort.

During the summer of 2006, Williams participated in Operation Hardwood, a goodwill tour to support the American troops serving in the Middle East. He spent a week touring the Persian Gulf region and coaching basketball teams made up of the best military players.

Williams served as the commencement speaker at the graduation proceedings for the Robert H. Smith School of Business. Williams, a 1968 University graduate with a degree in business, addressed the Class of 2004 at the Comcast Center ceremony.

Williams' recent charity work has benefited:

Coaches vs. Cancer, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, Great Expectations Campaign, National Autism Research, National Physical Education Council, Operation Hardwood, The Salvation Army and The Babe Ruth Museum

Williams has been heavily involved in the NABC's Coaches vs. Cancer efforts. The program is a partnership between the National Association of Basketball Coaches and the American Cancer Society. The coaches participating in this program are dedicated to fighting cancer through increased support for research, patient services, and prevention education.

Williams has also worked with Maryland grad Boomer Esiason and others to benefit the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, hosting charity basketball games and golf events.

In addition, Williams has also served as the honorary chairman for the Walk Far for N.A.A.R., which has raised more than one million dollars for the National Alliance of Autism Research. He has also chaired the Salvation Army's FORE Kids golf tournament in 2003 and 2004, which raises proceeds for Washington, D.C.'s youth.

CHUCK Driesell

ASSISTANT COACH
MARYLAND '85
THIRD SEASON AT MARYLAND

Former Terp shooting guard and Maryland alumnus Chuck Driesell enters his third season on head coach Gary Williams' staff. Driesell, who is respected as a recruiter, has gone head-to-head with schools from the Atlantic Coast Conference, Southeastern Conference and the Big East. He brings 18 years of collegiate coaching experience to the Terps' program where his father, the legendary Charles "Lefty" Driesell, coached from 1969-86.

During his first season on staff in 2006-07, the Terrapins posted a 25-9 record. Maryland went 10-6 in ACC play and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. An integral part of the coaching staff, Driesell works as the lead recruiting coordinator for the Terps. In addition, he is responsible for advance scouting, player development, and game preparation.

Driesell joined the Maryland staff after serving as head coach at Bishop Ireton High School from 2004 to 2006. During that time he coached current Terrapin Shane Walker. Prior to his stint at Bishop Ireton, he was an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Georgetown University in 2003-04. Driesell spent six seasons (1997-2003) as head coach at Marymount University (Division III) in Arlington, Va., where he guided the Saints to an 88-72 mark. In 1999-2000, he led Marymount to the Capital Athletic Conference Tournament Championship and its first Division III NCAA Tournament appearance. Driesell also served as assistant athletic director at Marymount from 1999-2003.

Before arriving at Marymount, Driesell spent nine seasons as associate head coach at James Madison under his father, where he helped guide the Dukes to unprecedented success. From 1989-94, JMU either won or tied for five consecutive Colonial Athletic Association regular-season championships (the only team in the country to do so at the time). The Dukes captured the 1994 CAA Tournament title and advanced to the NCAA Tournament, where James Madison lost to eventual national finalist Florida, 64-62. JMU compiled a 159-111 record (85-45 CAA) and made four postseason appearances in nine seasons under the Driesells.

As a four-year letterwinner at Maryland from 1981-85, Driesell was part of four postseason teams under his father's leadership. The Terps won 85 games during his career, while making three NCAA Tournament appearances and capturing the 1984 ACC Championship.

The Silver Spring, Md., native was also an ACC Honor Roll selection three of his four years at Maryland and graduated with a B.S. in business marketing in 1985. Following graduation, Driesell began his coaching career at the United States Naval Prep School, where he amassed a 40-29 record from 1985-88.

KEITH

Booth

ASSISTANT COACH
MARYLAND '03
FIFTH SEASON AT MARYLAND

In his fifth season on Gary Williams' coaching staff, former Terrapin All-American and NBA World Champion Keith Booth is back to the place he called home from 1994-97. A powerful and versatile athlete from his playing days in the post, Booth led the Terrapins to four NCAA Tournaments, including a pair of Sweet Sixteen appearances, and in 1994 began Maryland's streak of 11 consecutive NCAA berths that ran from 1994 to 2004.

Booth assists with the daily operations of the men's basketball program, including recruiting, advance scouting, player development, and game preparation. During his time on staff, the Terrapins have won no fewer than 19 games and posted 25 wins in 2006-07.

In a dominant senior season at Maryland, Booth led the Terps in scoring (19.5 ppg), rebounding (7.9 rpg) and steals (2.0 spg) and is still Maryland's all-time leader in free throws made (576). Booth finished his impressive career at Maryland among the Terps' all-time leaders in scoring (8th, 1,776 points), rebounding (6th, 916 points), steals (5th, 193) and is one of 15 players to have his jersey honored above the Terps' home court at Comcast Center. In October of 2008, Booth was inducted into the University of Maryland Athletics Hall of Fame.

Charm City Connection

The Baltimore, Md., native's decision to attend the University out of Dunbar High School was considered one of the major recruiting windfalls for Williams and the Terps in the mid-1990s. As a 6-foot-6 guard, Booth was frequently called upon by Williams to guard bigger opponents, and he always rose to occasion.

"Keith Booth was the most important recruit during my years here in terms of getting our basketball program to the national level," said Williams when Booth was introduced as an assistant coach at his alma mater. "Keith always achieved success against larger opponents, and his competitive attitude will carry over to our players."

As a senior at Dunbar, Booth was a Parade and McDonald's All-American selection, he also led his team to the Maryland Class "A" State Championship. Booth was named "Player of the Year" in Baltimore City and the state of Maryland by the Baltimore Sun. A year earlier, Booth led his Dunbar squad to a 29-0 record as a junior, helping the team to a No. 1 national ranking by USA Today.

It was Booth's decision to attend Maryland that revived the Terps' recruiting pipeline to talent-rich Baltimore. Terrapin star Rodney Elliott followed Booth from the Charm City and enjoyed a successful career as a Terp, and in 1998 another Baltimore native, Juan Dixon, arrived on campus. Dixon, of course, would help continue Maryland's resurgence begun by Booth and teammate Joe Smith, as he eventually became the Terps' all-time scoring leader and keyed Maryland to the 2002 National Championship.

Back at Maryland, Booth assists in all facets of the basketball program. He will work with the athletics department's Academic Support and Career Development to ensure that the team's academic responsibilities are met. He will also assume responsibilities as the co-director of the Gary Williams basketball camp, coordinating the management of the coaches, scheduling of the facilities, housing, meals and guest speakers.

Proven Champion

After a stellar career at Maryland playing alongside Smith, Elliott, Johnny Rhodes and others, Booth was an AP third team All-America selection as a senior in 1997. Booth left Maryland with a host of accolades including All-ACC honors four times, earning first-team honors as a senior, third team as a junior, and honorable mention designation during his freshman and sophomore seasons.

Booth's teams appeared in two NCAA Sweet Sixteens, finishing his sophomore season as ACC regular season co-champions and ranked No. 10 in the country in the final AP poll. That year (1994-95) the Terps compiled a 26-8 record, including a perfect 16-0 record at Cole Field House. Booth finished his Terrapin career with averages of 14.1 points per game and 7.3 rebounds.

After his playing years at Maryland, Booth was a first round draft pick of the Chicago Bulls in 1997, taken as the 28th selection overall. Booth became the second player in school history to win a NBA Championship when the Michael Jordan-led Bulls won the title in 1998. Booth had his best NBA game on March 30, 1999, as he posted career-highs of 18 points, nine rebounds and six assists against the Philadelphia 76ers.

Following a pair of seasons in the NBA, Booth returned to campus and finished his degree in criminology and criminal justice in 2003. Booth worked at an after school program at his former high school Dunbar, and rediscovered his love of coaching while managing a middle school baseball team in Baltimore.

ROBERT

Ehsan

ASSISTANT COACH
UC DAVIS '05
FOURTH YEAR AT MARYLAND

Robert Ehsan's fourth season on the University of Maryland men's basketball staff will find him having moved to an assistant coach position, continuing his upward progression with the Terps.

After two seasons as a graduate assistant, Ehsan moved up last year to the spot of assistant recruiting coordinator. This season, his areas of responsibilities include working with the department's compliance office, assisting with scheduling and providing training and practice schedules.

Ehsan is responsible for maintaining the Terrapins' recruiting database and works closely with the Gary Williams summer camps and golf tournament.

"Robert is one of the top young assistants in college basketball," said head coach Gary Williams, regarding the former graduate assistant. "He has been a tremendous asset for our program working with academics, advance scouting, player development and game management."

The Terrapins have been to the postseason in each of the past four years and have a record of 82-50 with Ehsan on staff.

Last season, the Terps made pulled one of the nation's stunning upsets with a victory at No. 1-ranked North Carolina. In 2006-07, the Terps finished 25-9, including a 10-6 mark in league play. Maryland's 25 victories marked the fourth-highest win total in school history and four Terps earned all-conference honors following the season.

Ehsan played four seasons at the University of California, Davis. He started his last two seasons for the Aggies and was the team captain in his senior year. Ehsan finished 23rd in the nation in free-throw percentage as a junior for Davis, which was in a transition period while moving from NCAA Division II to Division I. At Davis, Ehsan received the Gordon S. Baranco Award, symbolizing exceptional leadership, unselfishness, work ethic and commitment toward the team.

He became interested in coaching while assisting with camp staffs at Santa Clara, UC Santa Barbara, UC Davis and Gary Williams Basketball Camp at Maryland. Ehsan also held other positions in finance and marketing during summers. Ehsan led his Bella Vista High School team in scoring during all four seasons and was a three-time all-league pick at the Sacramento-area school.

He earned a bachelor's degree in economics while at UC Davis, making the athletics honor roll from 2002 through 2005. Ehsan completed a master's of business administration from UMUC in April 2008. A native of Sacramento, Calif., he resides in College Park.

TROY Wainwright

DIRECTOR OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS
UMUC '04
13TH YEAR AT MARYLAND

Troy Wainwright, the director of basketball operations, is in his 13th year as a member of Gary Williams' staff. He is an essential part of the success of the team, both on and off the court, and is responsible for the administration of the basketball office.

Wainwright is responsible for all internal operations of the basketball program and serves as a liaison to the athletics department including Deborah Yow, Maryland's director of athletics. He is involved in the day-to-day operations of the team, including budgetary matters, team travel, on-campus housing and dining contracts. In addition, Wainwright is responsible for non-conference scheduling and works with the conference office to coordinate the Terps' ACC schedule.

A native of Berlin, Md., Wainwright has played an integral role in the Terps' success since his arrival. The Terps have appeared in the NCAA Tournament nine times, won the NCAA championship in 2002 and captured the ACC title in 2004. Maryland has averaged over 20 wins during his 12 seasons with the team, despite playing the second-toughest schedule in the nation in 2005, the third most difficult in 2002 and the fifth most arduous in 1998. In 2003, 1998 and 1999 the Terps advanced to the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA Tournament, and in 1999, Maryland won 28 games and was ranked fifth in the nation. In 2001, the Terps advanced to the Final Four and were ranked No. 4 in final rankings by USA Today/ESPN, and in 2002 the Maryland basketball family captured its first-ever national championship and finished with a No. 1 ranking.

Among Wainwright's chief responsibilities is the administration of team travel plans. Wainwright coordinates all transportation (air and ground) as well as hotel accommodations. During his tenure, Wainwright has successfully coordinated travel to nine NCAA Tournaments, 12 ACC Tournaments, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Madison Square Garden, as well as every regular-season game. Wainwright successfully directed the Terrapins up and down the East Coast during the 2002 NCAA championship run, to Nashville and San Antonio as part of Maryland's 2003 Sweet Sixteen campaign, and to Denver for a school-record 11th straight NCAA appearance in 2004.

During the summer of 2004, Wainwright played an integral role in coordinating travel for the Terrapins during a 12-day, five-game tour of Italy.

Wainwright serves as the director of the annual Gary Williams golf tournament that raises money to endow scholarships for the basketball program. The tournament has raised more than $300,000 during the 12 years since Wainwright's arrival. As tournament director, Wainwright helps solicit sponsorships and participants, and helps with event management on the day of the event. In addition, he coordinates team and individual player awards and a silent auction.

Wainwright also serves as the co-director of the Gary Williams basketball camp each summer. He helps coordinate virtually every aspect of the camp including housing, meals and camp speakers. The recent Gary Williams camps were the largest in its history, attracting more than 1,200 overnight campers each over a three-week period in each of the last four summers.

Wainwright was a sociology major at the University of Maryland and went on to work as an account manager with the Washington Bullets from 1992-1994. He then served as an advertising account executive at the Washington Times from 1994-96. He completed a degree at University of Maryland, University College in 2004.

Wainwright served as head manager for the basketball team during Williams' first season at Maryland, 1990, and accompanied the Terps as they advanced to the second round of the National Invitation Tournament. He served as an assistant manager for the three years preceding Williams' arrival in College Park. Wainwright completed a master's degree in management from UMUC in May 2008.

J.J. Bush

ASSISTANT TO THE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR
ATHLETICS TRAINER - MEN'S BASKETBALL
FLORIDA STATE '69
37TH YEAR AT MARYLAND

J.J. Bush is in his 17th season as the athletic trainer for Gary Williams and the Terrapin men's basketball program. The past 16 years represent his second stint working with the program for the University of Maryland 30-Year Service Award winner, as he was also the team's trainer from 1972-1976.

As the trainer for the basketball team, Bush coordinates the daily medical treatments for all the players and supervises all rehabilitative efforts in case of injury. In the last 16 years, Bush has accompanied the Terrapins to 12 NCAA Tournaments, including seven Sweet Sixteen appearances, two Final Fours and the national championship in 2002.

Bush came to the university in 1972 as an assistant trainer and began working immediately with the men's basketball team. The team won the Atlantic Coast Conference regular season championship in 1975 and averaged 23 wins per season during his first four-year stint.

From 1979 until 1992, Bush served as the head trainer of the Terrapin football team, which claimed four ACC championships and played in nine bowl games during that era. In 1992 he returned to Cole Field House and the basketball team as an assistant to the athletics director.

In addition to his training duties, Bush teaches basic and advanced courses on care and prevention of athletic injuries in Maryland's College of Health and Human Performance, and is a frequent lecturer throughout the Mid-Atlantic region of the United States.

In May 2005, Bush was a member of the inaugural class inducted into the Maryland Athletic Trainers Association Hall of Fame. A founding member of MATA, Bush is credited as the author of the organization's constitution and by-laws.

A native of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Bush, 61, graduated from Florida State University in 1969. He and his wife Gina have two children, Brandon and Jordan, and reside in University Park, Md.

Joe Harrington

DIR. OF MEN'S BASKETBALL STUDENT-ATHLETE SERVICES
MARYLAND '67
SECOND YEAR AT MARYLAND

Joe Harrington has spent decades developing young basketball talent around the nation. Now he brings that expertise back to where his career began in College Park, Md.

Harrington was a teammate of Gary Williams at Maryland from 1965-67 under Head Coach Bud Milikan, and averaged 8.5 points and 5.5 points in 344 career games as a Terrapin. He was selected by the Boston Celtics in the 1967 draft.

Harrington opted to stay at Maryland after he graduated, serving first as a graduate assistant alongside Williams under freshman coach Tom Davis, and later as an assistant to Coach Lefty Driesell from 1969-1979. His time at Maryland marked one of the most successful decades in Maryland basketball history, as the Terps reached the Elite Eight twice and also captured the NIT Championship in 1972. Four of those teams were ranked in the top 14 in the season's final Associated Press poll, including final rankings of No. 4 in 1974 and No. 5 in 1975. Harrington also helped mentor four All-Americans at College Park, coaching Tom McMillen, Len Elmore, John Lucas and Albert King to basketball greatness.

In 1980, Harrington left College Park to take the reins as head coach at George Mason, where he compiled a 112-85 record in a successful career from 1980-1987. He was named the Colonial Athletic Association Coach of the Year in 1984, when the Patriots compiled a 21-7 record. In eight seasons with Mason, he produced 10 all-conference selections and saw Carlos Yates earn honorable mention All-America honors four straight years.

Following his stint with the Patriots, Harrington took over as head coach of Long Beach State, where he posted a record of 53-36 from 1987-90. Harrington guided the 49ers to the NIT in 1988 and 1990, before leaving to take over at the University of Colorado, where he served as head coach from 1990 to 1996.

There, he ended the school's 22-year postseason drought by earning a bid to the 1991 NIT, where the Buffaloes advanced to the Final Four. In addition to guiding CU to a second NIT appearance in 1995, he coached Donnie Boyce, who became Colorado's all-time leading scorer, as well as NBA All-Star Chauncey Billups. Harrington produced seven all-conference performers at Colorado.

Harrington brings NBA experience to the Terps as well, having worked in the National Basketball Association as an assistant on the Toronto Raptors staff from 1999-2001. In Toronto, he helped coach the franchise to its first playoff appearance and mentored NBA All-Stars Vince Carter and Tracy McGrady, who blossomed into the league's Rookie of the Year under Harrington's watch.

Paul Ricci

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH
TEMPLE '93
FIRST YEAR AT MARYLAND

Paul Ricci has joined the University of Maryland men's basketball staff as its strength and conditioning coach, head coach Gary Williams announced recently.

Ricci comes to the Terrapin basketball staff after nine seasons on the strength and conditioning staff of the Baltimore Ravens. During his time in Baltimore, the Ravens won Super Bowl XXXV, and he worked with 17 NFL Pro-Bowlers, including Jonathan Ogden, Ray Lewis, Jamal Lewis and Terrell Suggs.

In his last season, he served as an assistant on the Ravens defensive staff.

Prior to his time with the Ravens, he served on the strength & conditioning staffs of the San Diego Padres, Arizona Cardinals, Philadelphia Eagles, and Seattle Seahawks.

Ricci was an offensive lineman at Penn State University before he finished his undergraduate career with a bachelor's degree in exercise science and leadership from Temple University in December 1993. He earned a master's at Goucher College in 2005.

He is a Certified Strength & Conditioning Specialist by the National Strength & Conditioning Association, and has been certified by the Collegiate Strength & Conditioning Coaches Association. He is a member of the American College of Sports Medicine and the American Council on Exercise.

Al Tiffany

BASKETBALL EQUIPMENT MANAGER
MARYLAND '95
FOURTH YEAR AT MARYLAND

Al Tiffany is in his fourth season at his alma mater to serve as the equipment manager for the men's basketball team. He is responsible for ordering and issuing game uniforms and practice gear for the Terps, as well as coordinating laundry services for the team at home and on the road.

This season, he has coordinated the Maryland basketball team's transition with its new exclusive apparel provider, Under Armour.

Tiffany came to Maryland from the U.S. Naval Academy, where he served for five years in the athletics department on the equipment staff. A former student basketball manager for four years while at Maryland, Tiffany was the head basketball manager in his senior year. He earned his bachelor's degree in kinesiology from Maryland in 1995.

Tiffany also directs the equipment needs for all teams at Comcast Center, including women's basketball, wrestling, volleyball and softball.

Matthew Lisiewski

VIDEO DIRECTOR
FLORIDA '02
THIRD YEAR AT MARYLAND

Matthew Lisiewski enters his third season as video coordinator for the men's basketball program. Lisiewski is responsible for producing all scouting video, film exchange, and recruiting videos. In addition, he is responsible for post-season tournament tapes, fulfilling media requests for archived footage and assists with the postseason banquet highlight video. Lisiewski also assists with the Gary Williams golf outing and summer basketball camp.

Prior to joining the Terrapins for the 2006-07 season, Lisiewski spent two years as video coordinator and head manager with Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Texas. In addition to his duties with film exchange and scouting video, he served as co-director of the Mustangs' summer camps and handled all equipment needs for the men's basketball program. Lisiewski was responsible for set-up prior to practices and individual workouts. He also coordinated shootarounds for opposing teams during his two years with the Mustangs.

Lisiewski is a 2002 graduate of the University of Florida, where he earned his bachelor's degree in telecommunications. He interned with CNN in Atlanta, Ga., and worked for the Gator Radio Network during his time at Florida. After completing his degree, he spent a year working for Fox SportsNet in Los Angeles. A native of The Woodlands, Texas, Lisiewski has worked summer camps at Clemson, Florida, Georgia Tech, Houston, South Carolina, South Florida, Texas, Texas A&M and UCLA.

Cleo Long-Thomas

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT
21ST YEAR AT MARYLAND

Cleo Long-Thomas is in her 19th season as the administrative assistant to head coach Gary Williams and her 21st year overall at the University of Maryland. She coordinates the professional schedules of Coach Williams and assists the coaching staff. In addition, she is responsible for the overall administration and the day-to-day managerial duties of the basketball office.

Long-Thomas coordinates Williams' schedule for departmental meetings, out-of-town speaking engagements and appearances. She also coordinates travel arrangements for the entire coaching staff and is responsible for all of the senior day activities at the final home game of each season. In the postseason, Long-Thomas plans and coordinates the Terps' annual honors banquet including all invitations, decorations, seating and banquet room setup. The original administrative coordinator of the Gary Williams Basketball Camp, Long-Thomas still assists with day-to-day camp activities such as application and registration.

Long-Thomas is the proud parent of three children: Tyrone, 40, Jabari, 34, and Raven, 25. Tyrone and his wife Yolanda have given Long-Thomas two grandchildren, T.J., 12, and Jovan, 8.

Kenny Beaver

SECOND YEAR AT MARYLAND

Kenny Beaver enters his second season as Maryland's administrative assistant with the men's basketball program after having served as a team manager the previous four seasons. In his new role with the basketball staff, Beaver will work closely with Cleo Long-Thomas and Troy Wainwright, assisting in the daily operations of the program. Beaver will supervise the team managers, assist with travel plans and hotel accommodations for the team and serve as a liaison with the facilities and operations office.
