-  Our goal is to strive to be the best in everything we do.
-  In the classroom, our expectation is that each and every student-athlete will earn a degree while achieving the highest possible academic average.
-  On the field, we expect to become a consistent Top 20 team. Our primary goals are to win the conference championship and be in a position to contend for the national title. We will do this by mastering the art of preparation, which will enable us to perform at our optimal level.
-  We will apply the lessons learned through football into our daily lives. We will learn to be accountable for our actions, to rely on one another, and always do what's best for the good of the team.
-  We will embrace the concept of family through team bonding and working toward common goals.
-  We will learn to fight through adversity and to be winners in every aspect of our lives.
-  We will develop relationships that last a lifetime.
-  We will have fun playing the great game of football.

Maryland Alma Mater

Hail Alma Mater!
Hail to thee, Maryland!
Steadfast in loyalty,
For thee we stand.

Love for the black and gold,
Deep in our hearts we hold,
Singing thy praise forever
Throughout the land.

Maryland Victory Song

Maryland, we're all behind you.
Wave high the black and gold,
For there is nothing half so glorious
As to see our men victorious.
We've got the team, boys,
We've got the steam, boys,
So keep on fighting, don't give in!
M-A-R-Y-L-A-N-D
Maryland will win.

Attendance at Chevy Chase Bank Field at Byrd Stadium has continued to be strong over the last six years. In 2005, Maryland set a school record for per-game attendance when an average of 52,426 attended the five home games in College Park. The Terrapins have drawn more than 49,000 fans in each of the last four seasons, the first time in school history that milestone has been achieved. In Ralph Friedgen's six seasons, a total of 1,852,473 fans have attended 38 home games, an average of 48,749. The home attendance in the last six years is more than the previous 10 years combined prior to Friedgen's return to College Park.

BYRD STADIUM

A new era in the proud tradition of Maryland Athletics will begin in November 2007 with the first extensive expansion to Chevy Chase Bank Field at Byrd Stadium in over a decade.

Phase One includes the expansion of Tyser Tower along the South concourse, allowing for the addition of 64 Suites of varying sizes. Additionally, mezzanine seating for approximately 500 will be added (featuring heated and covered seating and food service); a University Suite with seating for 200 guests; new work areas for television, radio and print media; new work areas for coaches and game day operating staff; a new game-day merchandise outlet; enhanced seating for disabled customers; and a new state-of-the-art video scoreboard on the West concourse.

Phase Two includes the installation of railings in the North and South lower bowl to enhance fan safety and comfort; chairback seating in the 200 level on the North side; and additional restrooms and concessions on the South side. The playing field will be lowered to improve sight lines for seats on the first 10 rows, converting those 3,000 seats from obstructed view to some of the best views in the stadium. Additionally, all of the blue roofs in the stadium will be painted.

Future Expansion includes the renovation of Gossett Football Team House to include larger locker rooms and training areas, as well as the transformation of the West End Zone with the addition of nearly 8,000 seats, which will bring stadium capacity to approximately 60,000 seats.

The expansion plan is an ambitious one. Critical to its success is the leasing of all available Suites within the expanded Tyser Tower. You can support the proud tradition and future growth of Maryland Football by contributing to the Great Expectations campaign or leasing a luxury Suite at the stadium.

The Gossett Football Team House expansion project, which began with the first phase in the Spring of 2002, has improved the University of Maryland's football facility to better meet the needs of Terrapin student-athletes and recruits through the expansion of four components:

-  Expanded academic support and career development unit
-  New recruit meeting room/dining facility with kitchen
-  New team meeting auditorium
-  Expanded entrance and lobby

Phase One of the 15,500 square-foot renovation included the creation of an expanded academic support lab. This increased the existing space dedicated to support and strengthen the academic and career-achievement initiatives of football student-athletes by more than 4,000 square feet. In addition, a brand new video board was finished in time for the 2002 season, giving fans a more vibrant and exciting experience in Byrd Stadium with game action and replays shown on a board measuring 21 feet by 28 feet.

Phases Two and Three, completed in the summer of 2004, include a 3,500 square-foot meeting room and dining facility which provides a multi-purpose showcase for hosting recruits and their families.

It also includes a new team meeting auditorium which gives the entire football team the opportunity to meet together in one room, allowing the coaching staff to teach using state-of-the-art technology in an environment that has sufficient seating space for all the players. This addition improves the staff's capability to effectively present offensive and defensive game plans.

The construction also includes an enhanced entrance and lobby for the Gossett Team House that will showcase the program's tradition, importance and success. A striking first impression for recruits and visitors, the entrance and lobby highlights the rich past of Maryland football and will showcase the Terps' return to national prominence.

TERPS

TEAM HOUSE

Beginning with Maryland's first-ever NFL draft pick in 1937 and continuing in 2000 with Frank Wycheck's lateral in the "Music City Miracle," the Terrapins have fashioned an impressive tradition in the National Football League. Names like Scarbath, Jones, Nolan, White, Avellini, Esiason, Shiner, O'Donnell, Collins, Nehemiah, Lewis, Glover, Atkinson and Mike-Mayer have dotted NFL rosters over the years. In all, nearly 150 Terrapins have gone on to play professionally following their Maryland careers.

DID YOU KNOW?

Maryland has had 194 National Football League Draft choices since 1937, fourth-most among Atlantic Coast Conference schools.

Including Vernon Davis, the 6th pick overall in the 2006 Draft, there have been 14 Terrapins taken in the first round of the NFL Draft, including a pair of No. 2 overall selections in Jack Scarbath (1953) and Randy White (1975).

Butkus and Bednarik award-winning linebacker E.J. Henderson was selected early in the second round of the 2003 NFL Draft by the Minnesota Vikings. Henderson was the 40th selection overall.

Four former Terrapin quarterbacks have appeared in the Super Bowl: Boomer Esiason (1988), Frank Reich (1990-93), Neil O'Donnell (1995, 2000) and Scott Zolak (1996).

28 former Terrapins were on NFL rosters prior to the start of the 2007 training camps.

Three former Maryland head coaches (Bobby Ross, Lou Saban and Clark Shaughnessy) and four former Maryland players (Dick Modzelewski, Dick Nolan, Ron Waller, Mike Tice) have gone on to serve as head coaches in the NFL.

Former Dallas Cowboy Randy White made eight Pro Bowl appearances during his career, among the most in NFL history. White was co-MVP of Super Bowl XII and was later inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Merriman was honored at half-time of a recent basketball game.

Four Terrapins were invited to the 2007 NFL Combine in Indianapolis and were limited in their work at Maryland's annual Pro Day. Despite that fact, over 50 NFL scouts and executives showed up to put the other NFL-eligible Terrapins through their paces.

Jack Scarbath

JACK SCARBATH (1950-52) — Maryland's split T-quarterback was runner-up to Billy Vessels for the Heisman Trophy and was a unanimous All-America selection in 1952. In three seasons, the Terps were 24-4-1 with Scarbath as QB, including 10-0 in 1951.

DICK SHINER (1961-63) — An honorable mention All-America selection in 1962 and a two-time first team All-ACC choice who helped lead the Terps to a 21-17 win over Penn State.

BOB AVELLINI (1972-74) — Set school marks at the time for total offense (312 yards) and passing yards (314) while completing 21 of 31 passes in a game in his first career start his sophomore year vs. Duke. Went on to have a 10-year NFL career.

NEIL O'DONNELL (1987-89) — A two-year starter in college, he ended his career in the No. 2 spot on most major Terp passing charts. Drafted by the Steelers in 1990, he became the team's franchise player during his six seasons, making a Pro Bowl appearance in only his second year and leading Pittsburgh to an appearance in Super Bowl XXX.

SCOTT ZOLAK (1989-90) — Despite starting just one season for the Terps, he finished his collegiate career among Terp leaders in passing yards (3,124) and completions (270). His 2,589 passing yards in 1990 ranked as the second-highest single-season total in school history and helped earn him honorable mention All-America recognition from Football News. He was taken in the fourth round of the 1991 NFL Draft by the New England Patriots.

Boomer Esiason

QUARTERBACK LEGACY

BOOMER ESIASON (1981-83) — A two-time All-American who set 17 school records, led the Terps to the ACC championship in 1983 and a berth in the Tangerine Bowl. Arguably the most prolific left-handed quarterback in NFL history, Esiason was a four-time Pro Bowl selection and league MVP in '88.

FRANK REICH (1983-84) — Best known for leading the Buffalo Bills back from a 32-point deficit in the 1992 NFL playoffs against Houston, he also commanded the second-greatest comeback in the college game as well rallying the Terps after halftime against No. 6 Miami (Fla.) and down 31-0. Maryland pulled off the miracle upset, 42-40, and Reich finished the season as one of the top-rated passers in the country. Appeared in four Super Bowls.

STAN GELBAUGH (1984-85) — Played behind Esiason and Reich before moving into the Terps' starting lineup in '84 when Reich went down to injury. Gelbaugh stepped in to lead Maryland to four wins and a one-point loss on the road to Penn State. The following season, the Terps went on to win the ACC title and a Cherry Bowl championship.

SCOTT MILANOVICH (1993-95) — Left campus as one of the most decorated Terrapin QBs ever. In fact, Milanovich still owns most Maryland passing records, including career standards for yards (7,301), TDs (49) and completions (650). He is currently the QB coach with the Montreal Alouettes of the CFL.

SHAUN HILL (2000-2001) — Sparked the Terrapins to the 2001 ACC championship and earned team MVP honors, throwing for 13 touchdowns and rushing for seven more. Originally picked up by the Vikings, Hill is currently in his sixth season with the San Francisco 49ers.

SCOTT MCBRIEN (2002-2003) — Southpaw transfer from West Virginia who led the Terrapins to 21 wins in his two years as a starter — most by any Terp QB in two years — and was named MVP of the Peach and Gator Bowls. Currently with the Montreal Alouettes of the CFL.

*It caught on quickly and continues to spread...
Fridge Fever, that is.*

Perhaps never in the history of Maryland Athletics has a coach overseen a more immediate and dramatic turnaround of his team's fortunes than Ralph Friedgen, the consensus national Coach of the Year in 2001, who is second all-time in the Atlantic Coast Conference in the number of wins in the first six years of his career. Friedgen has taken the Terps to four bowls in his first six seasons, including posting a school record three-straight bowl wins.

Friedgen's rookie season included an ACC title, a BCS appearance in the FedEx Orange Bowl, and a final ranking of No. 10... Maryland finished each of the next two seasons by winning 10 of its last 11 games, including dominating performances in postseason bowls (30-3 over Tennessee in the 2002 Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl and 41-7 over West Virginia in the 2004 Toyota Gator Bowl).

A high-powered, exciting offense that has resulted in back-to-back scoring records... an attacking suffocating defensive style... standout special teams play — all have been hallmarks of Friedgen's Terrapin teams, as they have posted a 50-24 record the past six seasons.

Friedgen was featured in the Sports Illustrated 2003 College Football Preview.

FRIDGE

“Some people look at a football field and see hash marks and yard lines. Ralph Friedgen sees plays and patterns invisible to every other naked eye. And if anyone on defense does see them, they see them a step too late. More important, Ralph has the skill to teach what he sees to his players.”

You always hear about great middleweights who are 'pound for pound' the best fighters in the world. That's meant as a compliment to smaller men. Ralph is not a small man, but pound for pound he's still the best offensive coach in the country.”

“ Those of us who watched Coach Friedgen for all those years as an assistant knew that if any school would finally have the good sense to hire him, he would be a dynamic head coach. His first three years at Maryland have certainly proven to be true. Everyone knew he had a brilliant offensive mind, but now Coach Friedgen has shown that he has the complete package of skills to make Maryland an annual contender for the ACC championship. Ralph Friedgen is the real deal. ”

The University of Maryland made its fourth bowl trip in six years when it was invited to play Purdue in the 2006 Champs Sports Bowl. The Terrapins won their third straight postseason bowl game with a convincing 24-7 victory over the Boilermakers, the first time in school history Maryland has won three straight bowl games.

Maryland fans continued to show their ability to travel with their Terps, as more than 12,000 fans were estimated to have made the trip to Orlando.

GOING

Terpos

Maryland has made bowl trips in four of the past six seasons. In going to bowls in each of Ralph Friedgen's first three years, the team made three straight bowl appearances for the fourth time in school history (1973-78 and 1982-85).

The Terps' last three postseason victories have been by a combined 95-17 score, with victories over nationally prominent schools such as Tennessee, West Virginia and Purdue.

Maryland set 10 school bowl-game records in the New Year's Day victory over West Virginia in the 2004 Toyota Gator Bowl.

ATLANTIC COAST CONFERENCE

- The Atlantic Coast Conference continued to be one of the dominant football conferences in the nation in 2006 and the competitive balance expected in 2007 has fans around the nation on the edge of their seat.
- ACC teams have won two of the last eight national championships, five titles since 1990 and nine national crowns overall since the 1981 season.
- The ACC now features three teams that played in five of the first six BCS National Championship games.
- In 2006, the ACC matched its record from the previous season with eight teams earning bowl bids. Since 2001, the ACC has appeared in postseason play 41 times. In 2002, the ACC set a NCAA record for the percentage of teams in a conference that reached the postseason when seven of the then-nine teams earned bids.

ACC CONFERENCE OF

- For the first time ever, the ACC surpassed four million in attendance, with league teams drawing 4,485,625 over 85 dates. Nine ACC schools, including Maryland, drew 87 percent or better in percentage of capacity.
- The ACC remains the all-time winningest conference in bowl play among leagues with 75 or more games. The two current schools are a combined 143-125-5 in postseason play and is 25-16 over the last six years.
- Eight of the 12 ACC teams were ranked at least one week during the course of the 2006 season.

-  Playing for the Terps means competing in the nation's fourth-largest media market.
-  The Terps are covered extensively by two of the nation's top 10 newspapers: the Washington Post and the Baltimore Sun.
-  USA Today, the nation's newspaper, is headquartered less than 20 miles from College Park.
-  The Terrapin Sports Radio Network, which can be accessed up and down the East Coast, boasts one of the largest coverage areas in collegiate sports. Johnny Holliday, winner of the 2006 Chris Schenkel Award, is in his 29th year as Voice of the Terps.
-  Every major national television network – ABC, NBC, CBS and FOX – has a news-gathering affiliate in both Washington and Baltimore. No university in the East boasts eight major news outlets within a 35-mile radius of its campus – except the University of Maryland.
-  ACC football will receive extensive live television coverage over the next decade, with ABC, ESPN/ESPN2/ESPNU and Lincoln Financial Sports combining for more than 200 telecasts.
-  The Tyser Tower press box at Byrd Stadium seats more than 160 members of the print media on its third level and features state-of-the-art facilities for radio and television on the fourth level.
-  FridgeTV.com made a successful debut in 2003 and has unique insider's views of the Terrapin football program, making it the top coaches' web site in college football.
-  The Ralph Friedgen Show, featuring the popular Terrapins football coach, airs weekly on Comcast SportsNet, one of the top regional sports networks on cable.

There is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park. With its top-ranked academic programs, nationally recognized faculty, diverse population, and lush 1,580-acre campus located between Washington, D.C., and Baltimore, Md., it's no wonder the University of Maryland is a sought-after destination for some of the state's — and the country's — best and brightest students.

Attracting them are some 127 majors and some of the highest-ranked programs in the country. As of 2006, 91 programs rank in the top 25 nationally and a school-record 31 programs were in the top 10 in the latest U.S. News & World Report undergraduate ranking of top public universities.

Specifically, the University of Maryland's Smith School of Business was ranked 18th nationally, while the Clark School of Engineering was ranked 25th. In graduate school rankings, the Smith School of Business, the College of Education, the Clark School of Engineering, the College of Information Studies and the College of Computer, Mathematical and Physical

Terps Athletics Tops In Management, Innovation

The University of Maryland athletics department won the inaugural collegiate PRISM Award given by the the University of Massachusetts Department of Sports Management. The award honors demonstrated excellence and innovation in sports management of NCAA Division I-A and I-AA institutions.

WASHINGTON, D.C.

The nation's capital and its major attractions are within 10 miles of College Park. And the highly efficient Metro rail system, with a station at the campus doorstep, makes navigating the greater Washington, D.C., area easy. Campus shuttle buses serve the College Park Metro station, allowing easy access to one of the country's model transportation systems.

BALTIMORE

The 12th-largest city in the United States is often referred to as the "Charm City." Located just 35 miles north of the University of Maryland, its rejuvenation as an urban center is unprecedented. The Inner Harbor, its National Aquarium and tall ships, and the nearby Oriole Park at Camden Yards create an exciting, vibrant holiday atmosphere in a city that boasts one of the world's great sea ports.

ANNAPOLIS

The state capital of Maryland lies just 30 miles east of the University of Maryland. Long called the "sailing capital of the United States," Annapolis is located at the mouth of the Severn River on the Chesapeake Bay. The historic downtown area is known for its wonderful eating and shopping opportunities. There are few places in the world that rival the Chesapeake Bay area for its appealing qualities.

WASHINGTON, D.C.

IT'S ALL HERE

beyond the University of Maryland campus.

City lights, history, sparkling waterfronts, monumental landscapes. Jazz, film festivals, marches and demonstrations. Shopping, professional sports, regattas on the Chesapeake Bay. Not just one city, but three. Not just any city, but the nation's capital, a major port city, and the state capital of Maryland.

ANNAPOLIS

Important to any college program are walk-on players, who not only make a difference in aiding a team's depth and continuity, but can also earn their own scholarship and bid for significant playing time.

Take the case of Chad Scott. After playing two seasons at Towson in 1993 and 1994, Scott chose to walk on at Maryland, uninvited. By the end of his first semester on campus, Scott was awarded a scholarship and became a Terrapin co-captain for his senior year in 1996. The rest is history. Scott was a first-round draft choice of the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1997 and is now a member of the three-time NFL Champion New England Patriots.

Scott exemplifies the ultimate walk-on scenario. However, every season at Maryland, there are walk-on players who find their niche and contribute greatly to the Terrapins' program. With recent scholarship reductions, walk-on players have become a vital component to the rebuilding of Maryland football fortunes.

Another example is receiver Jermaine Arrington, who walked on and was the Terps' leading receiver in 1998, moving on to sign a free-agent contract with the San Francisco 49ers.

A recent Maryland player to go from walk-on to standout is former safety Madiou Williams, a transfer from Towson who became the first Terrapin picked in the 2003 NFL Draft, going in the second round to the Cincinnati Bengals. Williams was one of the top defensive rookies in the NFL in 2004, finishing with 103 tackles, three interceptions and two sacks as a starting cornerback.

THE TERPS WANT YOU!

Dan Ennis

Linebacker David Holloway and kicker Dan Ennis were each walk-ons when they started at Maryland. Both finished their careers on scholarship. Holloway finished third on the team with 70 tackles in 2006 and signed a free-agent contract with the Arizona Cardinals. Ennis led the Terrapins in scoring as a senior with 92 points, and his 31-yard field goal as time expired gave Maryland a thrilling 13-12 victory at Clemson.

David Holloway

Players who walked on at Maryland and made significant contributions under Coach Friedgen:

Dan Ennis, PK
Team's starting place-kicker in 2005 and 2006.

Moise Fokou, LB
Player to watch at linebacker and special teams in 2007.

Joey Haynos, TE
Second on team in receiving in 2006 with 37 catches.

David Holloway, LB
Three-year starter for Terps who signed NFL contract.

Scott McBrien, QB
Peach Bowl and Gator Bowl MVP.

Ryan McDonald, C
Starting center in 2005.

Nick Novak, PK
ACC's all-time leading scorer and current Arizona Cardinal.

Madiou Williams, S
All-ACC selection in 2003 and current Cincinnati Bengal.
