All-Time Coaching History

Dottie McKnight 44-17 (.721) • 4 Years (1971-75)

The first coach in the varsity era of women's basketball at the University of Maryland, McKnight directed a fledgling program into immediate success. In her four seasons at the Maryland helm, she never had a losing season. Her program was certainly not as established as it would become after her departure, but McKnight, in fact, boasts a better winning percentage than her successor, Chris Weller. McKnight laid claim to Maryland's first state championship in 1973, and won a second in 1975 with Weller as her assistant.

Chris Weller 499-286 (.636) • 27 Years (1975-2002)

Chris Weller dominates Maryland women's basketball history. She guided her alma mater to a national championship game and to three Final Fours in total. Her Maryland teams enjoyed national rankings in 18 seasons and she engineered an unprecedented eight Atlantic Coast Conference championships. In 1995, she became just the fifth coach in women's college history to earn at least 400 victories at the same school. Three years earlier, her Terps were No. 1-ranked for nearly a month and drew to College Park a sellout crowd that still is the largest in history to watch an ACC women's basketball game. She was a pioneer, architect and engineer to one of the most successful programs in the nation.

Brenda Frese 145-55 (.725) • 6 Years (2002-Present)

Hired in 2002, Brenda Frese has rebuilt a Maryland women's basketball program, leading the team to the first national championship in 2006. Working hard on the recruiting trails and luring some of the top talent to ever play in a Terrapin uniform, the Terps have burst onto national scene. After logging just 10 wins her first season, Maryland had received postseason bids five-straight years, earning a No. 1-seed in 2008, advancing to the NCAA Elite Eight for the second time in three years. En route to its title win, the Terps advanced to the Final Four for the first time since 1989. That year, the Terps also garnered a top-5 national ranking in the AP and Coaches poll for the first time in 17 years, finishing No. 1 in the coaches for the first time in school history. Maryland began the following season ranked No. 1 and maintained that position for 10 weeks.
