Game #33 • Home Game #16

College Park, Md. • College Park, Md.

Watch: ESPN2

Storyline

- This marks Maryland's 21st appearance in the NCAA Tournament and ninth under head coach Brenda Frese. The Terrapins are 32-19 (.627) all-time in the Tournament and are 20-7 (.741) with Frese. The Terps are 9-2 in NCAA Tournament games in Comcast Center. Frese has led the Terrapins to four Sweet Sixteens, four Elite Eights, a Final Four and the 2006 NCAA title in her 10 postseasons.

- Maryland is 2-0 all-time vs. Michigan State. The Terps won the last meeting, 97-57, on Jan. 6, 2007 in Comcast Center. Brenda Frese is 3-1 vs. the Spartans, dating back to her time at Minnesota.

- Brenda Frese was voted ACC Coach of the Year by the league's head coaches for the first time in her career. She's been named Coach of the Year in every conference she's coached in - the ACC, Big Ten and MAC. Alyssa Thomas was named ACC Player of the Year for the second straight year by the Blue Ribbon Panel. She is the first Terrapin to earn the honor twice.

- Tianna Hawkins and Alyssa Thomas were both named to the 15-member Wooden Award ballot and were voted to both of the All-ACC First Teams. Malina Howard and Chloe Pavlech each made one of the ACC All-Freshmen Teams. Howard and junior Katie Rutan were named to the 15-member All-ACC Academic Team.

- The Terrapins' road to success this year has been far from easy. They lost their expected starting backcourt and a seasoned veteran to injury, all within the first six weeks of the season. They have banded together to still find success. Brenda Frese and her staff have tailored the practice regimen to keep their players fresh. Frese has been in her element - developing young, talented players.

- Thomas is No. 7 on Maryland's scoring list with 1,650 points. Hawkins is No. 3 in rebounds with 1,064. Thomas broke Marissa Coleman's record of free throws made in a season with 169 this season.

- The Terps are No. 2 in the country in rebounding (+14.3), which is second only to Liberty's +17.5. Thomas leads the ACC in points (18.7), rebounds (10.5) and assists (5.5). Hawkins is second to her in points (18.4) and rebounds (9.8). Alicia DeV Vaughn leads the league in field goal percentage (.585). The Terps are No. 3 in the country in field goal percentage (.475) and No. 4 in assists (18.1).

2012-13 Maryland Women's Basketball

► 2012-13 SEASON OUTLOOK

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The 2011-12 Terrapins proved that Maryland was back as a national power and contender in the ACC and in the country. Head coach Brenda Frese and her staff are now looking forward to watching their team take it to the next level. The Terps ended the 2011-12 season ranked No. 5 in the major polls, took home the program's 10th ACC title and went to the Elite Eight for the fourth time under Frese. They will open the 2012-13 season right where they left off and are ranked No. 4 in Lindy's preseason top 25.

"I know that some of the preseason talk has our team pretty highly regarded. That's nice to see," Frese said. "We set our standards high here at Maryland. We want to win championships. We want to cut down nets. I want to see our players dancing in the confetti and our terrific fans celebrating. We were fortunate enough to see some of that last year and when you get a taste of it, you want more."

"This year's team really has a chance to do some special things. If we can stay healthy and master some of the stuff we're working on, we can play with anyone. Best of all, it's a really great group of people that are a blast to work with."

The 11 players that make up the Terrapin roster this season are known for getting it done at any level they've played. Between them, they've won multiple state championships at the high school level and five of them were named a high school All-American by at least one outlet.

"I really like how this group goes about their business," Frese said. "They are a motivated bunch that's willing to work and they are achievers. We knew when we recruited what's now our junior class that they would become the core of our team. Then you add in Tianna Hawkins, who's development in her time here at Maryland has been off the charts and that's a huge bonus."

The Terrapins lost three seniors after last season in Lynetta Kizer, Kim Rodgers and Anjale Barrett. Rodgers and Barrett were in College Park for five seasons each and Kizer was a mainstay in the Terps lineup.

To make up for the losses after last season, Maryland brings in three highly-recruited freshmen in Malina Howard, Chloe Pavlech and Tierney Pfirmann, who together make up a class that was ranked as high as No. 6. Throw in the addition of redshirt junior guard Katie Rutan from Xavier and the Terrapins' newcomers could account for quite a punch.

"We've added three new players who are each going to play vital roles for us. So far, they're doing well. I've had a few observers tell me they don't really look that far behind in workouts and that's encouraging," Frese said. "We also will have Katie Rutan at our disposal after she sat out last season. Katie adds to our firepower and can flat out shoot the ball. She's also a very smart and crafty player who brings intangibles to our team. She's in our business school here at Maryland, which is really hard to get into."

Now with high-level, high-pressure experience, Frese and the staff know they can begin to let the Terps take over on the court themselves.

"I really like it when I have a team that I can trust and let them just play basketball at times. I don't want to have to call every move. This team should be able to do that," Frese said. "In my previous 10 seasons at Maryland, I don't ever remember having the depth of firepower that we should have on the bench this year."

"One of the great things about this group is that whenever we've challenged them, they've always responded really well. Two days after our season ended last year, our players were ready to get to work in our Basketball Performance Center. When you step back, they had a great season, but they weren't satisfied. They had a similar mentality two years ago when we lost in the second round of the NCAA Tournament and came back very hungry."

2012-13 Maryland Women's Basketball

"Our returning players should definitely be battle-tested. They really faced some pressure situations last season and they thrived in them. I also think some of our players learned they could push themselves harder and farther than they might've originally believed. That's when you see players and a team grow. We saw that last season and we hope it continues this year."

Point Guards

The Terrapins lost their starting point guard in Anjale Barrett, who was in College Park for five years. Towards the end of the season last year, Barrett's young student, Brene Moseley, started to show signs of being ready to take over. After a summer of hard work, Moseley showed she was closer to taking the reins. Unfortunately, Moseley suffered an ACL tear on Oct. 21 that puts her out for the season.

"Anybody that watched our team last season saw Brene Moseley have some terrific moments for us. As we got deeper into the season, I felt really confident with her on the floor in pressure situations," Frese said. "We are disappointed for her that she has another obstacle to overcome, but she has already proven how strong she is. We know she will come back stronger than ever in her physical ability and in her knowledge of the game next year."

This summer, Laurin Mincy, Katie Rutan and Moseley all attended Point Guard College to learn more about the vital role of floor general. The Terrapins also bring in Chloe Pavlech.

"Laurin Mincy played some point for us last year and is a good option," Frese said. "Chloe Pavlech will get a lot of reps in practice and she's a bright kid. She's worked very hard since arriving here and she's strong. Also, the way our offense is designed, it doesn't have to be a point guard that gets us into what we want to run."

Fans can expect to see Mincy, Pavlech, and even Alyssa Thomas and Tierney Pfirman, run the point this season, as the Terps cover the position together.

Wings

The Terrapins have some of the strongest wings in the country in Alyssa Thomas and Laurin Mincy, and will look to utilize the strengths of Katie Rutan and Tierney Pfirman as well.

"We think we have terrific combinations of wing players we can put it on the floor. It starts with Alyssa Thomas and Laurin Mincy, who, as sophomores, really had some great games together," Frese said. "When I recruited them, I thought they could complement each other well and that's worked out. They can each score, but they're both unselfish."

Both Thomas and Mincy raised their percentages and averages across the board last year, and the Terps will count on similar numbers this year as well. Mincy averaged 13.1 points per game as a sophomore, more than an eight-point difference from her freshman year.

"Katie Rutan gives us another terrific shooter from the perimeter. She can really get it going and hit threes in bunches," Frese said. "She hits dagger shots and if teams want to zone us, Katie can really make them pay. As we've also seen in the past two seasons, Sequoia Austin is someone that can enter the game, hit shots and bring energy."

Rutan averaged 8.0 points per game and shot over 39 percent from outside the arc in her two seasons at Xavier, a top 10 program at the time.

"Tierney Pfirman is one of our freshmen and she really has a chance to be a good player. She's sort of cut from the same cloth as Marissa Coleman and Alyssa Thomas, in that she's a big, strong body who can play on the perimeter. She has a nice feel for the game and she's another player that can shoot the ball."

Frontcourt

The Terps' biggest strength last year was dominating inside - on the glass and scoring in the paint. They led the ACC, and the nation for most of the year, in rebounding with over 45 rebounds a game. They finished on the glass as well, averaging over 35 points a game inside.

"What I love about our front court is we really have players that have developed right before our eyes," Frese said. "None came in anywhere close to a finished product, but each has grown. We should have a very solid rotation of players and they each do some different things."

"Tianna Hawkins has made herself into a big time player. She led the nation in field goal percentage last season and set a school record with 24 rebounds in a game. She can shoot the ball out to the three-point line and she can make difficult finishes around the basket. She's one of the most efficient players you'll ever see."

"If you ask me who on our roster has a chance to improve in the way Tianna and Laurin Mincy did last season, my answer would probably be Alicia DeVaughn," Frese said. "She's had a great offseason. I thought towards the end of last season, we started to see her do some things that were really encouraging and she's already our best defensive player. I'm excited to see what she'll do this year."

"We are so happy to welcome Malina Howard to the mix," Frese said. "She is the kind of player you build a program with and she's a truly special person. Her inner drive is something very few people can match. She wants to do everything not just good, but great. She's also the kind of person that makes everyone around her better. Coaching her, you only have to tell her something once and she gets it."

Staff

Frese is fortunate enough to bring back her staff of Tina Langley, Marlin Chinn and David Adkins back for a fourth year all together. In their three years together, they've gone 76-26 with two NCAA tournament appearances, an Elite Eight appearance and an ACC Championship.

"I am very fortunate to have an incredible staff," Frese said. "I've always been a big believer in hiring great people and helping them shine. The biggest thing working for me is that you better have a great work ethic. If you don't have that, it's going to be a struggle."

"Last summer, I promoted Tina Langley to Associate Head Coach and that's a reward for a job very well done. She's made an incredible impact on our program in every way imaginable," Frese said. "We call David Adkins 'the Ambassador,' because he's one of those people that is a phenomenal representative of our program. Everywhere he goes, he leaves a positive impression of Maryland. And if David is the ambassador, Marlin Chinn is 'the Mayor.' We kid him, because he seems to know everyone everywhere. Marlin, just like the others, is devoted to Maryland, what we've built here and what we want to sustain."

Frese brings in three newcomers in Libby Ellis, Katie Fowler and Megan Rogers.

"Libby Ellis used to be one of our managers and she did such a great job, we kept her around. She's got a really bright future in this business," Frese said.

"Katie Fowler is our Basketball Performance Coach and she probably has more contact with our players than anyone. She's working with Kyle Tarp and they're on the cutting-edge of basketball performance training, helping our players be the best they can be. It's amazing when we see all the time our players have invested in performance training pay off on the court."

"Working in conjunction with Katie and Kyle is Megan Rogers, our new trainer. Megan has a really interesting background that will allow her to help our players in many ways. She has experience in physical therapy, which, I think, can really help us with injury prevention."

Schedule

Matchups with 16 teams that earned bids to 2012 postseason competition highlight the 2012-13 schedule. The Terps will play eight games against NCAA Tournament teams from last year.

Frese and the Terps will welcome Boston College, Clemson, Duke, Florida State, Miami North Carolina, NC State, Virginia and Wake Forest to Comcast Center in this upcoming season. They will face all of those teams on the road as well, except for Miami and NC State.

"If you look at our schedule, we've managed to put together some challenging stretches for our team," Frese said. "We've got a lot of road games in our non-conference portion. Those can be tricky, especially when they're at places like Nebraska, Connecticut and Delaware, who will all be highly-ranked."

"It goes without saying that the ACC schedule always presents challenges against some worthy opponents. As the number of games increases, that doesn't get any easier. The other thing for our fans to keep in mind is that as our ACC schedule has expanded to 18 games, it shrinks the size of our non-conference schedule."

- Building off of their Elite Eight berth, the Terrapins return four of five starters and seven letterwinners from their 2012 ACC Championship team. They led the ACC in scoring and rebounding last season and return 73.5 percent of their offense and 75 percent of their shooting.
- Alyssa Thomas, Tianna Hawkins and Laurin Mincy were all named to the Preseason All-ACC Team. and Thomas was voted the Preseason Player of the Year by the Blue Ribbon Panel. Thomas and Mincy were also named to the Wooden Award Preseason Top 30 and Thomas, Mincy and Hawkins made the Naismith early season watch list. The Terrapins were picked to finish second in the league, behind Duke.
- Now in her 11th season at Maryland, head coach Brenda Frese increased the program's winning percentage by 10 percent (currently over 74 percent from 64 percent). She's brought the program its first national championship, four Elite Eights and eight NCAA Tournament appearances in her 10 postseasons. Frese has also brought in nine top 15 recruiting classes and brought home two ACC titles.
- The Terps are again one of the nation's tallest teams with their average height just over 6-0. Eight of the team's 12 players are over the 6-0 mark. Seven are 6-2 or taller.
- Thomas notched the program's second triple-double with 11 points, 12 rebounds and 11 assists vs. George Mason. Marissa Coleman had the first with 15 points, 14 rebounds and 10 assists vs. UCSB on Dec. 2, 2006. She added the first in ACC Tournament history vs. Wake Forest with 32 points, 13 rebounds and 10 assists

Home Sweet Home

Maryland has been a dominant home team, especially over the last decade.

- The Terps are 448-125 (.782) all time in College Park, dating back to the inaugural 1971-72 season.
- Maryland is 155-30 (.838) all time in Comcast Center.
- The Terps are also 155-30 (.838) at home under Brenda Frese, whose first season in College Park was the inaugural season of Comcast Center.
- The Terrapins are 97-5 (.951) all-time in non-conference games in Comcast Center.
- The Terps own one of the longest home win streaks in ACC history. They won 48 straight home games starting Nov. 9, 2007 with a 76-52 season-opening win over Princeton. The streak ended on Jan. 21, 2010 with an 80-77 loss to Miami.

Milestones, Streaks, etc.

- Thomas is No. 7 on Maryland's scoring list with 1,650 points. Hawkins is No. 3 in rebounds with 1,064. Thomas broke Marissa Coleman's record of free throws made in a season with 169 this season.
- The Terrapins have outrebounded their opponents in 31 of 32 games this year, 64 of 68 games since the beginning of last season, and 92 of 100 games, dating back to the 2010-11 season.
- The Terps have won 97 of 102 non-conference games since moving into Comcast Center.
- After their win vs. Clemson (Feb. 14), Maryland has won at least 20 games in nine straight seasons.
- Junior Alyssa Thomas has scored in double digits in 88 of 98 games in her career and the last 26 straight.
- Senior Tianna Hawkins has scored in double figures in 29 out of the Terps' 32 games this year. She has also played in 134 consecutive games since she began her Terrapin career.

Glass Cleaners

- The Terps are still one of the most dominant rebounding teams in the country, just as they have been the last few years. They've outrebounded their opponents this year 1428-971 for the second-best rebounding margin in the nation (+14.3). They are second only to Liberty (+17.5).
- The Terps are averaging 15.6 offensive rebounds per game this year.

2012-13 Maryland Women's Basketball

- Of their 1,028 missed shots this year, the Terps have grabbed 499 offensive boards, which means they have grabbed an offensive board on 48.5 percent of their missed shots.
- Of their opponents' 1,223 missed shots this year, the Terps have grabbed 929 defensive boards, which means they have grabbed the rebound on 76.0 percent of their opponents' missed shots.
- Maryland outrebounded opponents 1631-1167 in its 36 games last season for a margin of +12.9, which was second in the country to Liberty's +15.6. They won the battle on the boards in 33 of 36 games.
- The Terrapins ended the 2010-11 season No. 5 in the NCAA in rebounding margin (+12.1).

Pound It Inside

- The Terps have outscored their opponents in the paint this year, 1,218-771, for an average of 38.1 to 24.1.
- The Terrapins beat their opponents in the paint last year, 1302-795. That's 37.2 points in the paint per game for the Terrapins to their opponents' 22.7.
- Maryland has held its opponents to 20 points in the paint or less in 12 of 32 games this year.

All Hands on Deck

- Eight Terrapins are averaging 20 minutes or more per game.
- The Terps have had three or more players in double figures in 25 of 32 games this year.
- Maryland lost two players, Essence Townsend and Brene Moseley, to ACL tears before the beginning of the season. Katie Rutan started alongside Mincy, Thomas, DeV Vaughn and Hawkins for the first three games, until Pavlech, a freshman, took over at the point guard spot.
 - All-ACC guard Laurin Mincy tore her ACL on Nov. 28 at Nebraska. Pfirman made her first career start in the next game, at No. 2 Connecticut, and rounded out the Terps' starting rotation.
 - Freshmen Pavlech, Pfirman and Howard, as well as Sequoia Austin, have all seen increased minutes.
 - Pfirman dislocated her knee cap after colliding with a practice player on Jan. 19 and returned on Feb. 17. Rutan has been back in the starting lineup since January.

Terps in the Polls

Maryland is one of the most consistent winning programs in the country. The Terrapins have been ranked for 56 straight weeks, dating back to the preseason poll of the 2010-11 season.

- Maryland is ranked No. 12 in the final Associated Press poll and No. 10 in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches' poll.
- The Terps made their first appearance in the AP Top 5 on Dec. 12, 2011 for the first time since they ended the 2008-09 season ranked No. 3.
- This week marks the 145th week head coach Brenda Frese has had a team ranked in her career.

Terps vs. Ranked Team Under Frese

Since Brenda Frese took over in 2002-03, Maryland has 47 wins over Top 25 teams, including eight last year and four this year.

- The Terps won 10 games over ranked teams in the 2005-06 season, including six over top 10 opponents and four over top five teams.
- Under Frese, Maryland has beaten 16 top ten teams, most recently No. 5 Duke on Feb. 19, 2012 and has eight wins over top five teams.
- Maryland has five wins over No. 1 teams in its history, including two in Frese's time. The Terrapins beat No. 1 North Carolina twice in the 2005-06 season.

Maryland in the ACC

Maryland is in its 36th season as a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Terps became a member of in 1977-78 - the first year the ACC had women's basketball. They won the first ACC Tournament in 1978.

- The Terps are 287-212 (.575) all-time in ACC games.
- Under Frese, Maryland is 106-58 in ACC games (.646), including 87-31 (.737) in the last eight years.
- In the last five years, the Terps are 65-25 (.722) in league games.
- Maryland is 59-24 (.711) in ACC games at home in Comcast Center. All are under Frese.

Double-Doubles

In the Terps' 32 games this year, three have notched 39 double-doubles, including two triple-doubles. In 36 games last season, five Terrapins notched 27 double-doubles.

- Tianna Hawkins has 16. Most recently, she had 23 points and 16 rebounds vs. Quinnipiac
- Alicia DeVaughn has three this year. She notched 11 points and 12 rebounds at Georgia Tech.
- Alyssa Thomas notched her 20th double-double of the year with 29 points and 13 rebounds vs. Quinnipiac.
- Thomas notched the program's second triple-double with 11 points, 12 rebounds and 11 assists vs. George Mason on Dec. 8, 2012. Marissa Coleman had the first with 15 points, 14 rebounds and 10 assists vs. UCSB on Dec. 2, 2006.
- Thomas is the first in school history - male or female - to record two triple-doubles. She notched the first in ACC Tournament history with 32 points, 13 rebounds, 10 assists vs. Wake Forest on March 8, 2013.

2012 ACC-olades

- Junior Alyssa Thomas was named the ACC's Player of the Year last March.
- Thomas was the second sophomore ever to win, after Duke's Alana Beard did in 2002. Thomas is the fourth Terrapin and third in five years - Vicky Bullett won in 1989, Crystal Langhorne earned it in 2008 and Kristi Toliver was honored in 2009.
- Thomas was also named a WBCA All-American, AP First Team All-American and USBWA All-American.
- In her 11-year tenure, head coach Brenda Frese's players have earned 28 All-ACC honors, including 10 First Team awards. She's coached 13 All-Freshman Team members, three Players of the Year and four Rookies of the Year.
- Senior Tianna Hawkins was named to the All-ACC Second Team for her first postseason honor.
- Junior Laurin Mincy was named All-ACC Honorable Mention.
- Junior Alicia DeVaughn was named to the ACC All-Defensive Team. She is the second Maryland player to earn the defensive honor. Renneika Razor was honored in 2002 and 2003.
- Sophomore Brene Moseley was voted to the All-Freshman Team and earned a spot on the ACC All-Academic Team.

Thomas Shines

2011 ACC Rookie of the Year Alyssa Thomas had a phenomenal freshman season, leading the team and the ACC in many statistical categories. As a sophomore, she picked up right where she left off en route to being named 2012 ACC Player of the Year and a WBCA All-American. As a junior, she's upped her game in more areas, including assists and rebounds and was voted ACC Player of the Year by the Blue Ribbon Panel. She's the first Terrapin to earn the league's top individual honor twice.

- Thomas has improved her game in assists and rebounds. She averaged 8.0 boards per game last year and is averaging 10.5 this year, as well as 3.2 assists last year to 5.5 this year. In 2011-12, she dished 113 assists total and has 175 this season.
- Thomas was voted ACC Preseason Player of the Year by the Blue Ribbon Panel in October.
- Thomas is the second sophomore ever to win ACC Player of the Year, after Duke's Alana Beard did in 2002. Thomas is the fourth Terrapin and third in five years - Vicky Bullett won in 1989, Crystal Langhorne earned it in 2008 and Kristi Toliver was honored in 2009.
- Thomas is the seventh Terrapin to be named a WBCA All-American and first Maryland sophomore.
- She scored in double figures in 32 of 36 games and had 10 double-doubles last year.
- Thomas was named ACC Tournament MVP. She is just the seventh player and first underclassman ever to be named Player of the Year and MVP in the same season.
- She had 17 points and 10 rebounds to hit 1000-point mark vs. Navy in the first round of the NCAA tournament. She became 27th Maryland player to break the mark. Thomas is the second-fastest Terrapin to reach the landmark, as she needed only 63 games, while Crystal Langhorne did it in 60.
- She started off her career in the ACC with five double-doubles in her first six ACC games.
- She earned a new Maryland record for Rookie of the Week awards with seven in 2010-11. Previously, Crystal Langhorne and Marissa Coleman were tied with five each.
- She was named to the All-ACC Second Team as a freshman. She was the first freshman to make the Second Team or better since Coleman made the Second Team in 2005.

Mincy Makes Improvements

After recovering from an ACL tear in her left knee suffered as a senior in high school, Laurin Mincy made huge strides in her game last season to become an All-ACC Honorable Mention honoree. She tore her right ACL at No. 19 Nebraska on Nov. 28 and will sit out the rest of the season.

2012-13 Maryland Women's Basketball

- Mincy was voted to the Preseason All-ACC Team in October.
- Mincy missed her senior season at University High School in Newark, N.J. due to her injury.
- She saw action in 31 of 32 games and made one start as a freshman. She averaged 16.4 minutes per game and 4.9 points per contest.
- As a sophomore, she averaged 13.1 points per game - an 8.2 improvement. She upped her field goal percentage from .382 as a freshman to .436 last year, and her three-point field goal percentage from .274 to .400.

Automatic Hawkins

Coming out of high school, Tianna Hawkins was ranked 133rd in her recruiting class. She's worked to get in the best shape of her life and is now one of the most efficient post players in the country. She was named to the All-ACC Second Team and All-ACC Tournament Team. Coming into this season, Hawkins was named to the Preseason All-ACC Team and the Naismith watch list.

- She scored in double figures in 32 of 36 games and had 10 double-doubles last year. In this season, she's scored in double figures in 29 of 32 games and has 16 double-doubles.
- Hawkins averaged 5.4 rebounds per contest as a sophomore, 9.1 as a junior, and is now No. 2 in the ACC with 9.8 per game as a senior.
- Her scoring has improved dramatically as well. She averaged 7.4 points per game as a sophomore, which increased to 12.0 per game as a junior. She now is the ACC's leading scorer with 18.5 per game - a difference of 11.1 points per game.
- Hawkins went 187-300 from the field last year for the nation's best field goal percentage of 62.3 percent. She is once again one of the most efficient finishers in the country, shooting .553 (247-447).
- Hawkins became the third player at Maryland to break 1,000 rebounds on Feb. 21 at Boston College. Only Crystal Langhorne and Marissa Coleman have reached that mark.
- At No. 22 Georgia Tech last year, she went 11-13 from the field and at UVA a week later, she went 12-13.

- On Feb. 13, 2012, Hawkins was named ACC Player of the Week as she shot 72 percent from the field, averaged 18.3 points per game and 8.3 rebounds per game in the Terps' three games. The next day, the USBWA named her it's National Player of the Week.
- Hawkins was named ACC Player of the Week for the second straight week on Feb. 20. She shot over 77 percent from the field, averaged 22.5 points per game and 11.5 boards per game.

Attendance Continues to Soar

For the past seven seasons, the Terps have set school records and ranked in the top 10 nationally in overall attendance, home and away. Maryland has played before 100,000 fans in seven consecutive seasons - all under head coach Brenda Frese. Over the last six years, the Terps have ranked at least sixth nationally in home attendance.

- 15,853 fans came to the Duke game on Feb. 24, 2013 - the seventh-largest attendance in ACC history. The

- So far, 74,347 fans have come to see the Terps play at Comcast Center this year - more than any other ACC school. Maryland's average attendance of 5,310 leads the ACC.

Overtime is Our Time

The phrase, "Overtime is our time!" became one of the catch phrases from the Terps' 2006 title run. That 2005-06 team went 6-0 in overtime games and won the national title in extra time vs. Duke.

- Maryland is 15-2 (.882) in overtime games in head coach Brenda Frese's 11 years.
- In the 2007-08 season, Frese was not on the sidelines for two of the Terps' overtime games. She missed a 97-86 double overtime loss at North Carolina on Jan. 26, 2008 and a 74-71 win at Virginia Tech on Feb. 4, 2008, due to her pregnancy with her sons.

- The Terps' only overtime loss with Frese on the sidelines was a 95-91 loss at Florida State on Jan. 16, 2005.

Team Tyler Game on Feb. 24 vs. Duke

In September 2010, Brenda Frese's two-year old son, Tyler Thomas, was diagnosed with leukemia. He started treatments immediately at Johns Hopkins in Baltimore and has been clear from leukemia cells within the last few months.

- In 2010-11, some starters from the 2006 national championship team - Marissa Coleman, Shay Doron, Laura Harper and Kristi Toliver - got together and formed the Team Tyler Foundation.
- The Team Tyler Foundation raises money for leukemia research and patients at Hopkins.
- The Terps joined Apple Ford Lincoln to present the third annual Team Tyler Day game Feb. 24 vs. Duke, along with the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society, and the There Goes My Hero Foundation.
- The There Goes My Hero foundation, which is based out of Bel Air, Md., works to expand the bone marrow donor registry and find matches for all those diagnosed with leukemia through many support programs. At the Team Tyler game, the There Goes My Hero foundation was there to register donors.
- The Terrapins have also teamed up with Apple Ford Lincoln to present "3's for T." For every 3-pointer the Terps make this season, Apple Ford Lincoln will make a donation to the Team Tyler Foundation. Apple Ford Lincoln has donated for 133 threes this year.

Maryland Among ACC's Best Last Ten Years

Maryland has been one of the top programs in the ACC over the past 10 seasons.

- With 276 wins since 2002, Maryland is third among all ACC schools in wins.
- The Terrapins have finished in the top four of the ACC in seven of the last eight years.
- The Terps captured the 2009 ACC regular-season title and the 2009 and 2012 ACC Tournament championships.

Frese Signs Fifth Top-Five Class

Head coach Brenda Frese and her staff signed the program's fifth top-five class and ninth top 10 class of her 10-year tenure in November. Lexie Brown (Suwanee, Ga./North Gwinnett), A'Lexus Harrison (Baltimore, Md./Digital Harbor), Brianna Jones (Havre de Grace, Md./Aberdeen) and Shatori Walker-Kimbrough (Aliquippa, Pa./Hopewell) make up the No. 4 recruiting class in the country, as ranked by Blue Star Report and Collegiate Girls Basketball Report. Hicks Honored as Terps' ACC Legend

The Atlantic Coast Conference announced its ninth annual class of ACC Women's Basketball Legends on January 30. The Terps will honor two-time All-ACC honoree Jessie Hicks (1989-93).

- She was a four-year letterwinner between 1990-93. She was a two-time first team All-ACC selection in 1992 and 1993, along with earning Kodak All-Region honors those same seasons.
- With Hicks in the lineup, Maryland earned an NCAA Championship berth each season and advanced as far as the Sweet 16 in 1992.
- The Richmond, Va., native ranks in the top 10 in scoring in Maryland women's basketball history with 1,601 points and averaged 14.3 points per game. She still stands among the top-five in blocks with 137 and is third all-time in field goal percentage (.588). Hicks is also among the top players in Terp history in rebounds (703, T-11th), rebounding average (6.3, 14th) and field goals made (649, fourth).

- Following her playing career at Maryland, Hicks went on to play six seasons in the WNBA after being picked 12th overall in the Inaugural WNBA Draft. She earned her degree in criminal justice in 1993 and went on to earn a master's of education in guidance and counseling. Hicks currently serves as an elementary school counselor and is a high school girls basketball coach.

Fear the Turtle!

Maryland is one of the most consistent winning programs in the country:

- Maryland's bid to the 2013 NCAA Tournament marks its 10th straight postseason appearance. Nine of those 10 have been NCAA Tournament bids.
- The Terps have averaged 25.2 wins per season the last 10 years, including nine consecutive 20-win seasons from 2004-2013.
- Frese has led the Terps to four 30-win seasons. 2005-06 marked the first 30-win season for the program, as the Terrapins went 34-4 and won the 2006 NCAA title. The Terps won 30 games in 2007-08 when they went 33-4 and in 2008-09 when they went 31-5. Last year, the Terps notched the program's fourth 30-win season with their record of 31-5.
- The Terrapins have won at least one postseason game (NCAA, or WNIT) in each of the last 10 seasons.
- The Terps have advanced to the NCAA SWEET 16 four times in the last eight years.
- Maryland earned a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament in 2008 and 2009 and a No. 2 seed in 2006, 2007 and 2012.

334-123 (14th year)/277-93 (11th year at Maryland)

There was no better fit for the University of Maryland women's basketball program than head coach Brenda Frese. The 2002 Associated Press (AP) National Coach of the Year arrived in College Park with great expectations and has not disappointed. Reviving a once-prominent women's basketball program back to the national stage, her high work rate and positive attitude has resulted in two ACC titles, 10-straight top 15 recruiting classes and a National Championship in 2006. Frese has balanced that strong work ethic with a fun and family-friendly environment, also becoming a wife and a mother of twin boys, giving birth to them in the midst of one of the most successful seasons in the program's history. With the birth of her twins in February of 2008, she becomes one of only six coaches to win a national championship and be a parent.

Now in her 11th season at Maryland, Frese has guided Maryland to a National Championship in 2006, nine winning seasons, nine-straight 20-win seasons, four 30-win campaigns and eight trips to the NCAA Tournament. She signed a four-year extension in August 2011.

In 2006-07, Maryland also received its first-ever No. 1 preseason national ranking, remaining in the top spot in the polls for 10-consecutive weeks.

"This has been an incredible journey and winning the national championship in 2006 was just the beginning," Frese said. "My coaching staff and I had the belief we could win a national championship here at Maryland. With all the administrative support, the first-class facilities - we knew we could build something great. We did not set any timetables, but what we have achieved so far ... it's beyond expectations."

Former Athletics Director Deborah A. Yow courted the 2002 AP National Coach of the Year because of Frese's reputation for making amazing turnarounds and her relentless work ethic in recruiting. Described as dynamic, overachieving, determined and enthusiastic, the 42-year old coach is one of college basketball's stars. Standing atop the podium in Boston in 2006, Frese became the fifth-youngest coach (age 35) in NCAA history to win a national title and only the ninth to win in her first trip to the Final Four.

Frese has built the team's success around recruiting, hard work and a positive atmosphere. The instant she arrived on campus, she determinedly worked the recruiting trails in an effort to reclaim the elite status Maryland once had in the 1980s. Success came quickly and early. Before she even coached a game in the newly-constructed Comcast Center, she received commitments from a pair of high school All-Americans, including Shay Doron, who went on to become a three-time All-ACC pick and a WNBA Draft selection. In all, 25 high school All-Americans have donned a Maryland uniform under Frese's reign.

All 10 of Frese's recruiting classes at Maryland have been ranked in the top-15, including nine rated in the top-10 and five in the top five. The landmark signings of Crystal Langhorne, Laura Harper, Jade Perry and Ashleigh Newman were rated No. 2 in the country, while the class of Marissa Coleman and Kristi Toliver was ranked No. 4 - the core of the Terps' national championship team. Her 2010 batch of Terrapins included three high school All-Americans and a No. 2 national ranking.

Frese's recruiting classes have lived up to their billing and her pupils have earned numerous accolades. In 2012, Alyssa Thomas became the first Maryland sophomore to be named a WBCA All-American, and was also named to the AP All-American First Team and the USBWA All-American Team. The first Terp in 17 years to garner All-American nods in 2006, Langhorne was a three-time AP and USBWA All-American, the program's first multiple All-American. She was selected a WBCA All-American in 2007, the first in school history since 1989, and then again received the accolade in 2008.

Toliver repeated Langhorne's AP, WBCA and USBWA All-American "trifecta" in 2008. The legendary point guard, however, became the first Terp in school history to be named to the AP's All-America First Team as a senior in 2009 - to go along with another set of WBCA and USBWA All-American laurels. Coleman, Toliver's classmate, also earned AP, WBCA and USBWA All-American honors at the conclusion of her illustrious senior campaign in 2009.

Frese's players have also received numerous ACC honors. Most recently, sophomore Alyssa Thomas was named ACC Player of the Year in 2012. She is just the second sophomore in the history of ACC women's basketball to earn the league's most prestigious honor and went on to win the ACC Tournament MVP honor that year. In her final season, Langhorne was selected the ACC's Player of the Year, the first Terp to win the award in nearly 20 years. Toliver followed suit in 2009 - the third Terp ever to win the award. In 2005, Langhorne became the program's first ACC Rookie of the Year since 1991. Coleman followed in her footsteps by nabbing the honor during the Terps' championship campaign in 2006. Center Lynetta Kizer and Thomas made it four Terps in six years to be named the league's top freshman when they won in 2009 and 2011.

In all, 28 Terps have received All-ACC citations in Frese's 11 years, including a school-record four in 2008 when Langhorne, Coleman, Toliver and Harper were selected and in 2012 when Thomas, Tianna Hawkins, Laurin Mincy and Lynetta Kizer were honored. Six Terps have been First Team ACC selections 10 times in Frese's tenure. Langhorne became Maryland's first three-time, first team all-conference selection and the first to be named All-ACC four times. Coleman joined Langhorne as the lone Terps to ever be selected to an All-ACC team four times, stamping her three second-team honors with a first-team selection in 2009. In fact, of Maryland's six players all-time to be selected All-ACC three times or more, five of them were recruited by Frese (Doron, Langhorne, Coleman, Toliver, Thomas).

Numerous Terps have also garnered national recognition under Frese. Toliver became the first Terrapin to earn the highest point guard honor in the country, winning the Nancy Leiberman Award in 2008, after being a finalist the previous year. Several have earned spots on national player of the year candidate lists, making history in the fall of 2006. That year, for the first time ever, four players from the same team were selected preseason candidates for the WBCA's prestigious Wade Trophy when Doron, Coleman, Langhorne and Toliver were put on the Watch List. All five starters were tabbed preseason honorees for the Naismith Award, also a first in the history of the award.

Maryland has rewritten several records over the last eight seasons. In 2007-08, the Terps became the first team in NCAA history to have four active players with at least 1,000 points on the same roster. That year, school records were broken for most home wins (21), which is also believed to be an NCAA record. The team opened the 2006-07 campaign winning 18-straight games, setting the program record for best start to a season. Maryland ended the 2008-09 campaign having won a school-record 36-straight home games, thanks to undefeated home marks in two successive seasons, and 40-consecutive non-conference games at the Comcast Center. In the 2009-10 season the Terrapins extended that streak to 48, a Maryland men's and women's basketball record.

In 2005-06, the team's 34 wins set a school record, shattering the previous mark of 29. The championship squad also set new standards for highest road winning percentage (.900), points (3,166), field goal attempts (2,363), 3-point field goals (216), 3-point attempts (540), free throws (690), free throw attempts (924), team free throw percentage (.747), rebounds (1,720) and blocked shots (195).

Numerous individual records have also fallen in recent years. Among the most notable are the career scoring and rebounding records, which Langhorne shattered, becoming the first-ever Terrapin to score 2,000 points and to grab 1,000 rebounds - an elite list of which Coleman later joined.

Maryland's rise into the upper-echelon of, not only the ACC, but in the country, has bolstered the excitement surrounding the team. Over the last ten years, the program has ranked in the top-25 in the nation in attendance, including top-10 rankings in four of the last nine seasons. In 2007, Maryland recorded the nation's largest one-season improvement in home attendance, averaging 9,533 fans in 16 games, almost double the average from the previous season (4,183) - with more than 150,000 people making their way through the Comcast Center turnstiles, a school-record. By the end of the '07 campaign, the Terps were sixth in the nation in average attendance and fourth in overall attendance, as 241,280 spectators filled the stands at home and on the road to watch the Terps play in 34 games. In 2008, Maryland hosted over 160,000 fans in 21 games and was ranked eighth in the nation in average attendance that year, followed by a No. 6 ranking in 2009 (133,336 in 15 games).

One of the highlights of the 2006-07 campaign was the announcement of two sellout games in Comcast Center, the first- and second-ever in the young facility. The stands were filled to capacity when the Terps hosted North Carolina on Jan. 28, 2007, breaking the ACC's single-game record, the first women's basketball sellout since 1992. The record was matched in the regular-season finale on Feb. 18, 2007, when Duke came to College Park.

Maryland owns all 10 of the conference's top-10 single-game attendances, nine coming since Frese has roamed the sidelines.

In the classroom, the Terps have also been all-star students. 24 of Frese's Terps have been named to the ACC Honor Roll, while five have received Academic All-American nods by ESPN The Magazine/CoSIDA.

Tina LANGLEY

Associate Head Coach • 5th year • West Alabama '96

Tina Langley is in her fifth season at the University of Maryland and 14th in coaching overall. She was promoted to associate head coach in the summer of 2011.

Langley made an instant impact her first season with the Terps. She served a crucial role in helping to lead the Terps to their first ACC Championship in 20 seasons and helped secure one of the nation's top recruiting classes for 2010. In her four seasons in College Park, she's helped lead the Terps to ACC titles in 2009 and 2012.

As Coach Frese's top assistant, Langley's responsibilities include coordinating the Terps' recruiting efforts, assisting in player development, scouting, and on the court coaching.

"Tina jumped right in and made a huge impact for us. Her work ethic is nothing short of stellar, she has an excellent demeanor with our student-athletes, and she has an exceptional ability to take on many roles and responsibilities," said head coach Brenda Frese. "She possesses all the characteristics we need in a coach to make a positive impact on our recruiting efforts, player development, and our program as a whole. I'm looking forward to working by her side again this season."

In addition to her passion, determination, and work ethic, Langley has significant coaching experience. Prior to arriving in College Park in 2008, she had coaching stints at Toledo, Clemson and Georgia. She has been instrumental in recruiting, game preparation and floor management in each of her stops.

Langley spent five seasons at the University of Toledo, beginning her coaching career with the Rockets as a graduate assistant coach in 1998-99, before moving up to recruiting coordinator and eventual associate head coach during the 2002-03 campaign. She helped the Rockets reach the postseason three times, including two NCAA Tournament appearances. During her tenure, Toledo also won three Mid-American Conference regular season titles (1999, 2001, 2003) and two conference tournament crowns (1999 and 2001).

Toledo, Langley was responsible for all facets of the program, including recruiting, scouting of opponents and coordinating the team's academic efforts. She helped to sign two nationally ranked classes, the Rockets accumulated a 101-38 record (.679) during her time, and the team's grade point average was ranked in the top 10 in the nation three times. On the floor, she worked directly with players who went on to be selected the team's Most Improved Player in 2001, 2002 and 2003.

Langley then joined the women's basketball staff at Clemson in 2003, under legendary head coach Jim Davis. In her two years with the Tigers, the team advanced to the 2004 Women's National Invitational Tournament (WNIT) while also orchestrating a CU-record six-signee class, which was ranked in the top 30 nationally in just her first season.

After her stop at Clemson, Langley was hired at the University of Georgia as the recruiting coordinator. Langley left coaching for a couple years and earned her second master's in Community Counseling from the University of Alabama, specializing in college mental health. She was named the Most Outstanding Graduate Student in 2008.

Langley played basketball and volleyball for two seasons at Beville State Junior College before transferring to the University of West Alabama, where she lettered twice in basketball as a guard/forward. She graduated from UWA with a degree in special education in 1996, and earned her first master's degree in Recreation and Leisure with an emphasis in recreation administration from the University of Toledo. Langley resides in Laurel, Md.

Marlin CHINN

Assistant Coach • 4th year • Hampton '92

Marlin Chinn joined Brenda Frese's coaching staff in June 2009 following a successful four-year stint at Seton Hall, where he spent three seasons as the Pirates' top assistant and recruiting coordinator.

Chinn helped lead the Terrapins to their 10th ACC title in 2012.

"We have always been about family first here at Maryland and it's pretty special to bring Marlin back home," Frese said. "This is where he wants to be and he already knows why Maryland is an incredible place. As we got to know each other, we quickly found Marlin shares common traits with us - loyalty, work ethic, care and concern for people and he is a tremendous recruiter. We feel as though Marlin will help us continue to set the bar high for excellence here at Maryland. We're excited to welcome him to our family."

In Chinn's second season on Phyllis Mangina's staff at Seton Hall, the Pirates posted their first winning record in Big East play in six years en route to a 13-win improvement from the previous season. During his tenure at Seton Hall, Chinn helped secure a top-30 national recruiting class in 2007, recruited a pair of All-Big East Rookie Team selections as well as recruiting and coaching two All-Big East performers.

The Archbishop Carroll High School alum previously spent seven seasons at Mount St. Mary's from 1998-2005, serving as top assistant for The Mount. There, he recruited five Northeast Conference All-Rookie Team choices, including the 2005 NEC Rookie of the Year. Chinn helped lead Mount St. Mary's to a pair of NEC regular-season titles in 1999 and 2001.

Prior to landing on the college scene, Chinn served as assistant men's high school coach locally at Theodore Roosevelt High School (1997-98) and Archbishop Carroll High School (1994-97).

Chinn is a member of both the Black Coaches Association (BCA) and the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA). He was recently selected into the 2007 BCA Achieving Coaching Excellence (ACE) for ethnic minority male and female basketball coach's class.

In spring 2011, Chinn served on a panel of the nation's top assistants at the A Step Up: Chicago 2011 event.

A 1992 graduate of Hampton University, Chinn is familiar with the area and is a native of Washington, D.C. Chinn graduated from Hampton with a B.S. in accounting. Chinn served as president of the National Association of Black Accountants in 1992. Chinn currently resides in Largo, Md.

DavidADKINSAssistant Coach • 4th year • Radford '89

David Adkins is in his fourth season at Maryland, joining the Terrapins in June 2009 after a successful career in the high school ranks working with some of the best players in the country. He has helped more than 50 players earn college scholarships, including 41 Division I scholarships.

Adkins helped lead the Terrapins to their 10th ACC title in 2012.

"David Adkins is one of the most highly-regarded player-development coaches in all of basketball and we are incredibly fortunate to have gained his services," Maryland head coach Brenda Frese said. "I first got to know David through (former Terrapin) Marissa Coleman and (former Maryland men's basketball player) Greivis Vasquez, who rave about him. He's been a big part of some incredible basketball programs and he brings tremendous energy and knowledge."

Adkins joined the Terrapins after spending 17 years as a high school assistant coach, but his coaching laurels reach far beyond the prep ranks.

Widely known in basketball circles as an elite developer of talent, Adkins has helped ripen the games of two NBA players and trained many more, two McDonald's All-Americans, three Jordan All-Americans, three Maryland Gatorade Players of the Year, four Parade All-Americans and three Washington Post Players of the Year during his time teaching the game as a high school assistant, camp counselor and in private workouts. Additionally, Adkins has trained several high-profile European professionals, including former Maryland standout Nik Caner-Medley.

Over the course of his career, he has helped ripen the games of three NBA players and many Division I athletes such as Kevin Durant (Oklahoma City Thunder), Linas Kleiza (Toronto Raptors), Greivis Vasquez (Memphis Grizzlies), Austin Freeman (Georgetown), Jeff Peterson (Arkansas) and Jerai Grant (Clemson).

Adkins, a 1989 graduate of Radford University, also served as an assistant coach for Team USA at the 2006 19-U Nike World Championships and during the 2007 Capital Classic in College Park.

He most recently coached for three years at legendary high school power DeMatha Catholic in Hyattsville, Md., helping the Stags claim two conference titles and two city titles while compiling a record of 83-20. Prior to his stint at DeMatha, Adkins spent seven seasons as an assistant at nationally-acclaimed Montrose Christian High School in Rockville, Md. During his tenure, Montrose Christian was ranked No. 1 in The Washington Post final poll in 2003, 2005 and 2006 where it finished in the USA Today Top-10 each of those years.

In total, Montrose Christian finished in the top-25 of the USA Today poll in five of Adkins' seven seasons at the school.

Adkins' camp experience includes the Nike All-Asia Camp in Beijing (counselor), the Nike Basketball Power Factory Tryout and Training Camp in Beijing (coach), the Five Star Basketball Camp in Caloforte, Italy (camp director), the Chris Paul Elite Backcourt Camp, the Snow Valley Basketball Camp, the Nike All-American Camp (coach) and the Nike Hoop Jamboree Camp (coach).

Adkins resides in Ashburn, Va., with his wife, Janet, and two daughters Ryland and Camryn. Ryland is a junior at Maryland and is a manager for the women's basketball team.

ChrisCAMPBELL*Director of Operations • 3rd year • Duke '96

Maryland women's basketball head coach Brenda Frese welcomed Chris Campbell as the new Director of Operations in the summer of 2010. Campbell was an assistant coach at University of Delaware from 2008-10 and is a Maryland native.

"We feel very fortunate to have someone of Chris' caliber," said Frese. "He's very bright and really brings a lot to our program. His local ties are a bonus; he's another member of our staff that brings even more people into supporting our program."

While at Delaware, Campbell assisted head coach Tina Martin in recruiting, game plan preparation, practice plans, video and academic performance. He has earned a reputation as a tireless worker and is well-versed in all aspects of the game. Campbell played a key part in Delaware's outstanding 2009-10 season that saw the Blue Hens post a record of 21-12, advance to the Colonial Athletic Association, and earn a spot in the Women's National Invitation Tournament. Delaware was led by the play of freshman Elena Delle Donne who became the first UD women's player to earn All-American honors while also garnering CAA Player and Rookie of the Year honors.

"The past two seasons have been an incredible journey," said Campbell. "Coach Frese is one of the best in the business, and I have enjoyed learning from her and the rest of her staff and interacting with a great team of young women. University of Maryland is one of the top universities in the country for academics and athletics, and it is an honor to be a Terp and to be at such a prestigious institution. There is an excitement around Maryland women's basketball, and I love the energy and enthusiasm of the fans and supporters that surround this program."

Born in Mt. Kisco, N.Y. and raised in Potomac, Md., Campbell was the top assistant at Marymount University in his three seasons there under 25-year head coach Bill Finney and served as the team's recruiting coordinator. He helped lead the Saints to a three-year record of 61-25 and NCAA Division III Tournament appearances in 2006 and 2008. The team won the Capital Athletic Conference title in 2006 and advanced to the title game in both 2007 and 2008.

Marymount, based in Arlington, Va., went 20-9 and advanced to the NCAA Tournament in 2006, posted an 18-10 mark in 2007, and a 23-6 record in 2008 when the team returned to the NCAA Tournament. Marymount has captured 10 CAC titles during Finney's tenure.

While at Marymount, Campbell helped coach four All-CAC players, including three-time All-CAC selection Stephanie Witko and 2006 CAC Player of the Year and Female Athlete of the Year Randi Jones. In addition into his duties with the basketball team, he also served as head men's golf coach for two seasons, leading the squad to a fourth place finish at the CAC Championships.

Campbell began his college career at Catholic University where he served as an assistant women's basketball coach in 2004-05 under head coach Maggie Loneragan. He helped lead the Cardinals to a share of the CAC regular season title and a berth in the league tournament semifinals. The team won a school-record 14 straight games.

He also coached at his alma mater, Winston Churchill High School, from 1998-2004 and was part of the Bulldogs' back-to-back state championships in 2002 and 2003. Campbell earned a Bachelor of Science Degree in Biology from Duke University in 1996.

Chris and his wife, Tina, were married in the summer of 2011. Campbell has a four-year old stepson, Preston, and their daughter, Aubrey was born in May 2012.

- All-ACC Honorable Mention (2012)
- Preseason All-ACC Team (2012)
- Wooden Preseason Top 30 (2012)
- Naismith early season watch list (2012)

► Frese on Mincy: "It was amazing to watch Laurin blossom last season and come up huge in some of our biggest games. There were times we really needed her and she delivered. She's gotten stronger every offseason and I think her game will continue to expand. She's unselfish and I think her teammates really like playing with her. Our role, now, is to continue to challenge her and not let her be satisfied."

#3 Brene "Bones" MOSELEY

Guard • 5-7 • Sophomore • 1V • Burtonsville, Md. (Paint Branch High School)

- ACC All-Freshman Team (2012)
- ACC All-Academic Team (2012)

► Frese on Moseley: "Brene has one of the best personalities for the point guard position of anyone I've coached. She communicates. She's about other people. She wants responsibility and she has a really good mind for the game. As a freshman, she asked some of the best questions when we reviewed video. What I saw when I recruited her is still true today - Brene wants the ball in pressure situations. She's as cool as a cucumber. She's also one of those people that is impossible not to like. It should be a fun season watching her lead us."

Tore left ACL in team scrimmage on Oct. 21.

- ACC Newcomer Watch List (2012)
- ACC All-Freshmen Team (Coaches, 2013)
- ACC All-Academic Team (2013)

► Frese on Howard: "I started recruiting Malina when she was in ninth grade. Four years later, it took Malina about five seconds to be on our campus and make her presence felt as an incredibly special person. She's a perfectionist at everything she does. Driven and motivated only begin to describe her. She's a great student who elevates and cares about everyone around her. And she's the kind of player you only have to tell her something once and she gets it. She's already a core part and leader of our program."

#5 EssenceTOWNSEND

Center • 6-7 • Senior • 3V • Paterson, N.J. (Paterson Catholic High School)

► Frese on Townsend: "Essence is one of the best success stories we've had here at Maryland. She really has improved as a player and we've seen that in games and practice. She can block shots, run the floor and she's developed her post game. What I'm most proud of is how she's evolved as a young lady who came from a challenging background. The people where she works rave about her and how she touches other people's lives. That's really cool to see."

Tore left ACL in exhibition vs. Goldey-Beacom College on Nov. 5.

► 2011-12 Season

Saw action in 16 games...notched four boards vs. Loyola (Nov. 11)...had three blocks vs. Towson (Nov. 16)...dumped in a bucket at FIU (Nov. 25)...grabbed three offensive boards vs. CSUB (Nov. 26)... pulled down a board and notched a block in four minutes at American (Dec. 4)...scored career-high 10 points in 21 minutes vs. Delaware State with four rebounds and four blocks (Dec. 11)...tied her career-high 10 points and grabbed a season-high seven rebounds in 13 minutes vs. Lafayette (Dec. 28)...saw action at Florida State (Jan. 2)...scored three points and grabbed two rebounds in four minutes vs. Wake Forest (Jan. 19)...made a bucket, grabbed four boards and blocked three shots vs. Boston College (Feb. 2)...grabbed five boards with a block in nine minutes vs. Virginia in ACC Second Round (March 2).

► BeforeMARYLAND

An all-state, all-county and all-league selection for the Cougars as a senior ... led high school team to the 2009 Tournament of Champions and a final four berth ... was a first-team all-league and all-county choice from sophomore through senior seasons ... all-league honorable mention as a freshman ... once recorded 21 blocks in a game and can dunk.

#13 Alicia DeVAUGHN

Center • 6-4 • Junior • 2V • West Palm Beach, Fla. (Blanche Ely High School)

• ACC All-Defensive Team (2012)

► Frese on DeVaughn: "Alicia is our best defensive player and I was really happy that she was voted on to the ACC All-Defensive team last season. She has terrific instincts and she knows how to cover up other people's mistakes. She's a great teammate and has a terrific sense of humor. She had a tremendous offseason and I think our fans will see that growth on the court this year."

#21 TiannaHAWKINS

Forward • 6-3 • Senior • 3V • Clinton, Md. (Riverdale Baptist School)

- Led NCAA with FG% of 62.3 (2012)
- Preseason All-ACC Team (2012)
- All-ACC Team (Second, 2012; First 2013)
- WBCA All-Region Team (2013)
- All-ACC Tournament Second Team (2012)
- ACC Player of the Week (3X)
- USBWA Player of the Week (2/14/12)

Frese on Hawkins: "Tianna has made the biggest jump of any player I've ever coached and that's a credit to how much she's invested in getting better. She was considered the 125th best player in her class by one service. Look where she is now - All-ACC Second Team, nation's leader in field goal percentage and the record holder for most rebounds in a game at Maryland, not to mention an honor roll student. I remember her freshman year when she came in on off days to get extra work. It all pays off. She has a toughness about her that few others do."

#22 Tierney PFIRMAN

Foward • 6-2 • Freshman • HS • Williamsport, Pa. (South Williamsport Junior Senior HS)

► ACC Rookie of the Week (12/10/12)

► Frese on Pfirman: "Tierney is cut from the same cloth as Marissa Coleman and Alyssa Thomas in that she's a big perimeter player that can do damage inside and out. Back in her hometown, she became a local legend really young. She has a lot of potential to be a very good player for us. Now it's our job to challenge her and help her on this journey. I love players that are versatile and can put the ball in the basket. Tierney fits that description. She's got a great opportunity to learn from some terrific teammates and I'm excited about what she can do for us."

- All-ACC Team (2nd, 2011; 1st, 2012, 13)
- ACC Player of the Week (7X)

• ACC Rookie of the Year (2011)

► Frese on Thomas: "The most ferocious competitor I've ever coached. I knew the first time I saw her when I recruited her that she had a chance to be an All-American. Seeing her smile on the court is one of the best sights. Alyssa plays with a passion that very few can match. Not only that, she demands the people around her get better. In anything we do that's competitive, Alyssa leads the way. Her motor runs at a level most will never know. I love challenging her and she wants to be challenged. Since she's been here, we've seen her grow in so many areas. She's given us every ounce she has to offer and will do anything to help her team win. She can make plays that others can only dream about."

2012-13 Maryland Women's Basketball

#40 Katie RUTAN

Guard • 5-8 • Redshirt-Junior • TR • Ambler, Pa. (Springside School/Xavier)

• ACC All-Academic Team (2013)

► Frese on Rutan: "Katie hit a lot of big shots against us in practice last year. I'm really glad we can reverse her jersey and let her do some damage for us the next two seasons. She doesn't need a lot of time or space to get one off and she hits dagger shots. She has a terrific feel for finding spaces on the floor and is very savvy. She's brought so many intangibles to our team that she made us better without ever playing one second for us."

GAMEDAY

Gameday Media Parking

Parking is free and open after 4 p.m. in the lots surrounding the Comcast Center on gamedays. For other arrangements, please contact the media relations office.

Media Seating and Media Work Room

The courtside media area and work room both are at the northeast corner of the arena. Both are available for working media only. Seats in both are open.

Located on the court level of Comcast Center, the work room is directly across from the men's basketball locker room and directly behind the courtside area. They are connected by the tunnel area adjacent to the loading dock and service entrance on the arena's northeast corner.

The work room opens well before game time and media representatives are welcome upon arrival at the arena.

POSTGAME

Postgame News Conference

Head coach Brenda Frese and select players will be available for interviews in a press conference in the media work room. The Maryland locker room is closed.

The visiting team's locker room access policy is determined by officials of that school. Upon request, visiting players and coaches can come to the media work room as well.

Tianna Hawkins had 18 points and 10 rebounds, Alicia DeVaughn contributed 15 points and 11 boards, and No. 5 Maryland rolled to a season-opening 88-47 victory over Mount St. Mary's on Friday night.

Alyssa Thomas scored 14 for the Terrapins, who led by 25 at halftime and coasted to the finish. Freshman Malina Howard added 12 points and seven boards.

The Terps were second in the country in rebounding margin last year (+12.9) and continued that dominance Friday. They outrebounded the Mountaineers, 54-25, and outscored them in the paint, 64-20.

"I really liked how we came out to play. Our energy was fantastic and I thought we did a terrific job of sharing the basketball tonight," head coach Brenda Frese said. "I thought we were really unselfish with our play and I am really excited about the dominance of our post play. All three of them were very good and very active on the glass. They gave us a great post presence inside and some really positive things to build on for our first game."

Hawkins, a 6-foot-3 senior, shot 8 for 11 from the air and finished with her 25th career double-double.

Kayla Grossett scored 17 for the Mountaineers (0-1), who shot 29 percent from the field and were outrebounded 54-25. The Mount fell to 0-17 against ACC schools, including 0-5 versus Maryland.

Hawkins scored 14 in the first half, and the Terrapins limited the Mountaineers to 1-for-12 shooting from 3-point range in taking a 48-23 lead. Maryland closed the first stanza on an 18-5 run.

Thomas and Laurin Mincy were named to the Wooden Award Women's Preseason Top 30 list, released Friday.

Tianna Hawkins scored 26 of her career-high 33 points in the first half and No. 5 Maryland cruised to an 88-45 victory at crosstown rival Loyola on Sunday night.

Hawkins also had 13 rebounds and finished with a double-double for the second consecutive game. Alicia DeVaughn scored 16 points and Tierney Pfirman added 13 for the Terrapins (2-0), who have four starters back from last year's team that won the ACC title and advanced to the Elite Eight for the fourth time under coach Brenda Frese.

"I thought our energy was really good and Loyola was really scrappy," Frese said. "They made us work. They're going to go far with that kind of energy. I thought our size gave them problems." Katie Sheahin, last season's Player of the Year in the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference, led Loyola (0-1) with 19 points and made all eight of her free throws attempts.

The Terrapins dominated the paint and outrebounded the Greyhounds, 55-18. Maryland also made nearly 52 percent (30-for-58) of its shots.

After a layup by Diana Logan cut Maryland's lead to 21-18 with seven minutes remaining in the first half, Hawkins scored eight points in a decisive 14-0 run over the next four minutes. A pair of free throws by Pfirman later increased Maryland's lead to 41-25 at the break.

"I was just getting out in transition and my teammates were finding me for the easy basket," Hawkins said. "That was pretty much what happened." The Terrapins continued to pull away in the second half and consecutive three-pointers by Katie Rutan, an Xavier transfer who sat out last season, provided a 57-33 lead with 14:16 left in the game. Loyola could not get any closer than 20 points the rest of the way.

Maryland now leads the series 19-3 and have not lost to the Greyhounds since 1998. It was the first Loyola has lost by 30 points since an 84-46 setback to the Terrapins last season.

Tianna Hawkins had 20 points and 12 rebounds, Alyssa Thomas contributed 20 points and 11 rebounds, and No. 9 Maryland opened defense of its Atlantic Coast Conference title with a 79-55 victory over Virginia Thursday night at Comcast Center.

Coming off a gritty loss to No. 2 Connecticut, the Terrapins (5-2, 1-0) led by 16 at halftime and quickly expanded the margin to 25 points before coasting to the finish. Freshman Tierney Pfirman added 17 points in her second career start. Maryland limited the Cavaliers to 25 percent shooting and finished with a 50-39 rebounding advantage.

"We had good defensive play tonight," head coach Brenda Frese said. "We are trying to show what our identity is going to be and we are starting to consistently showing up now defensively. You can see the effort and anticipation in Tianna Hawkins and Alyssa Thomas combined for 29 points and 29 rebounds and No. 8 Maryland used a 17-4 run to close the game in front of a sellout crowd at Delaware, 69-53, Thursday.

Hawkins had 16 points and 16 rebounds, while All-American Alyssa Thomas had 13 of each. Katie Rutan scored 13 for the Terps (8-2), who won their fourth straight game.

Hawkins scored 12 straight points to help Maryland open a 43-31 lead over Delaware (5-3) with just over two minutes gone in the second half. With 13:17 left, the Terps led 50-37.

Delaware's All-American Delle Donne had eight points and Danielle Parker had four to help the Blue Hens pull to 52-49 with just over eight minutes to play. Coming out of the under-8 media timeout, Rutan and freshman Chloe Pavlech hit back to back threes to bring Maryland's lead back to 58-51 with 6:41 to go.

Delaware's last field goal was a jumper by Delle Donne at 7:00. They hit two of four free throws in the final two minutes.

Delle Donne played for just the second time this season after missing a month with Lyme Disease. She finished with 19 points and six rebounds but was 7 for 23 from the floor in 34 minutes.

Lauren Carra had 16 points for Delaware, which snapped a four-game winning streak.

The game was played before a sellout crowd of 5,089, the largest crowd in Delaware women's history.

Since its loss to No. 2 Connecticut, Maryland has won its last three games by an average of nearly 40 points. The Terrapins, the nation's top rebounding team, beat the Blue Hens on the board, 44-35. Thomas and Pavlech each added five assists and Pavlech added three steals as well.

Tianna Hawkins had 20 points off 9-for-9 shooting from the floor, and No. 9 Maryland cruised to a 76-36 victory against the Bears in the opening round of the Terrapin Classic on Friday.

Maryland's Tianna Hawkins has created matchup problems for most opponents this season, and she wasted little time establishing her dominance against Brown, as she scored 16 of her 20 points in the first half.

Alyssa Thomas had 16 points and Katie Rutan added 11 points for the Terrapins (9-2), who have won five consecutive games. Maryland leads the nation with a 19.1 rebounding margin and outrebounded Brown 43-24.

"I thought it was a slow start and we had to shake off some rust," Maryland coach Brenda Frese said. "The second half was really good. We consistently had energy. I liked how we were able to get a lot more aggressive defensively. Really, our transition game got going from our defense. I thought we were really unselfish with the basketball."

Lauren Clarke had eight points for the Bears (3-6), who have lost four of their past five games.

Maryland got off to a sluggish start and trailed until Rutan made a 3-pointer with 13:09 left in the first half for a 16-14 lead. Maryland took over and a layup by Hawkins capped a 12-2 run, helping the Terps extend the margin to 37-24 at the break.

"I think going into the game I had great focus," said Hawkins. "I think that helps my teammates. I just hit my open shots."

The Terps shot 55 percent from the floor for the game and held the Bears to just 25.9 percent shooting. The Terrapins dominated the scoring inside, 50-14.

In the second half, eight points by Thomas sparked a 19-0 run and increased the lead to 62-31 with 6:02 remaining.

Alyssa Thomas had 26 points, a career-high 18 rebounds, six assists and three blocks and No. 10 Maryland took charge from the opening tip and beat Virginia Tech 74-45 on Sunday at Cassell Coliseum.

Thomas, the reigning ACC player of the year, led the Terrapins (13-3, 4-1 Atlantic Coast Conference), who won for the ninth time in 10 games. Tianna Hawkins added 14 points and freshman Tierney Pfirman and Katie Rutan each scored 11. Maryland went ahead by double figures on three free throws by Rutan with just over eight minutes to go before halftime and the Hokies never got within single digits again. Uju Ugoka scored 12 points and Monet Tellier had 11 for Virginia Tech (7-9, 1-4), which lost its fourth straight. Thomas and the Terps were focused from the start, with Thomas scoring the game's first six points. Maryland also blocked several shots in the early going, and that surely contributed greatly to Virginia Tech's shooting woes. The Hokies missed 12 of their first 14 shots and shot 27.9 percent (19-68) overall. Virginia Tech also went five minutes before scoring on Porscha Hadley's putback.

Leading just 15-9 after 12 minutes, Maryland used a 13-3 run to open its lead to 28-12. Pfirman started it with a 3-pointer, Rutan hit three free throws and Hawkins finished it with a jumper.

The Terps' lead was 37-22 at halftime, and after Virginia Tech closed to within 43-31 with 15 minutes to go, Malina Howard hit a jumper from the free throw line, Pfirman had a three-point play and Howard followed a Hokies turnover with a 3-pointer, pushing the lead back to 51-31, and all suspense was gone.

The Terrapins, the top rebounding team in the country, beat the Hokies on the boards, 43-33.

Tianna Hawkins dominated the paint with 26 points and a season-high 17 rebounds, and No. 10 Maryland defeated North Carolina State 82-62 Thursday night to win its fourth straight game.

It was the ninth double-double of the season for Hawkins, the ACC's leading scorer. Alyssa Thomas contributed 18 points and freshman Tierney Pfirman added 16 for the Terrapins (14-3, 5-1). The Terrapins, the nation's leading rebounding team, owned the glass, 47-34 and beat the Wolfpack in the paint, 51-22.

Maryland never trailed in its fifth ACC win of the year. The Terrapins have won eight of their last nine games against NC State (8-10, 0-6).

Marissa Kastanek scored 16 points for the Wolfpack, who shot 34 percent from the field in their fifth consecutive loss. NC State hasn't won in College Park since Jan. 23, 2005.

Maryland led by 10 early in the second half before Alicia DeVaughn made a layup to spark a 13-2 spree that made it 49-28 with 16:36 left. The run included two layups by Hawkins and five straight points by guard Chloe Pavlech.

Less than a minute later, Thomas was called for her third foul. Coach Brenda Frese kept her in the game, and Thomas promptly responded by sinking a soft jumper and getting an assist on a 3-pointer by Pfirman. The lead swelled to 70-39 with 10 minutes remaining.

Thomas and Hawkins each scored 10, and the Terrapins limited NC State to 29 percent shooting in taking a 34-23 halftime lead.

Maryland scored the opening eight points, half of them by Thomas. The Wolfpack started 0 for 5 from the floor with two turnovers, including a pair of shot-clock violations, before Kastanek hit a jumper and successive 3-pointers to knot the score.

Thomas answered with three straight jumpers to make it 14-8, and the Terrapins never relinquished the lead.

Tianna Hawkins scored 25, Alyssa Thomas had 17 points and 10 rebounds, and 10th-ranked Maryland beat No. 11 North Carolina 85-59 Thursday night to end the Tar Heels' 11-game winning streak.

Thomas fell two assists short of her second career triple-double and Chloe Pavlech scored 18 for the Terrapins (16-3, 7-1 Atlantic Coast Conference). Junior Katie Rutan added 10 points, six assists and six boards. The Terrapins shot 58.2 percent for the game, their highest percentage in an ACC matchup since 2008.

"This is an amazing group. They just continue to find ways," head coach Brenda Frese. "I do not know what more I can say about them. They continue to scratch, crawl, and fight. It doesn't matter who the opponent is, or if it is home or road, they continue to play for each other and the name on their chest."

Maryland has won six straight since falling to North Carolina on Jan. 3. North Carolina had not lost since Dec. 2, 102-57 at Tennessee. The Terps have won five of the last six over the Heels. The Terrapins have beaten the Tar Heels by a total of 62 points in the last three meetings in College Park.

Krista Gross and Tierra Ruffin-Pratt each scored 15 for the Tar Heels (18-2, 6-1), who fell into third place in the ACC behind Duke and the Maryland. North Carolina went 1 for 19 from 3-point range.

Maryland led 41-30 before Thomas scored seven points in a 14-4 run that upped the margin to 21 with 12:48 left. North Carolina coach Sylvia Hatchell received a technical foul and Ruffin-Pratt, the Tar Heels' leading scorer, picked up her fourth foul during the pivotal stretch.

The Terrapins got a scare with 5:14 left in the first half when Thomas leaped for a long rebound and was undercut by North Carolina guard Brittany Rountree. Thomas rolled off Rountree's back. Thomas was helped to the locker room but missed less than three minutes of playing time before returning.

Hawkins and Pavlech each had 12 points, and the Terrapins shot 65 percent in taking a 37-25 halftime lead.

Getting two baskets and four assists from Thomas in the opening eight minutes, Maryland took a 17-10 lead before the Tar Heels used an 8-0 spurt to move in front. Pavlech then hit a jumper and her second 3-pointer to spark a 9-0 run that made it 26-18. At that point, the Terrapins were 12 for 18 from the floor and Thomas had assists on half their baskets.

The Terrapins won the battle on the glass, 41-30 and beat the Heels in the paint by 12.

Katie Rutan played her best game in the Atlantic Coast Conference and feels more comfortable than ever on No. 10 Maryland's multitalented team. The best news for Rutan, though? She might be losing the protective face mask she's worn for almost a month.

Rutan scored 16 points off four 3-pointers as the Terps won their 12th straight game over Clemson, 80-40 on Sunday. Rutan, a Xavier transfer who sat out last season, is growing into the reliable outside shooter who prevents defenses from collapsing on Maryland's seemingly endless roster of tall, talented post players.

Not that it's affected her aim much. Rutan's gone 13 of 22 from the floor the past three games, all in starting roles. She broke things open for Maryland (17-3, 8-1 ACC) against the Tigers (5-14, 1-7) with three straight 3-pointers in the opening half to turn a 19-12 lead into a 28-14 runaway.

Maryland coach Brenda Frese says Rutan has been ready to play. "She allows us to have a real inside-outside game," the coach said. "We know how talented we are with our bigs, but to really stretch the defense like that is critical."

The Terps did plenty of damage with their inside game, too. Coming off a stellar, 85-59 win over No. 11 North Carolina this past Thursday night, Maryland picked right up against the Tigers.

Tianna Hawkins, the ACC's leading scorer, had 17 points and 10 rebounds, her 11th game this year with double-figure points and boards. Alicia DeVaughn made 6-of-7 shots for 14 points. Alyssa Thomas, second to Hawkins in league scoring and tied with her for the rebounding lead, posted her 12th double-double this season with 10 points and 10 rebounds.

Even 6-foot-4 freshman Malina Howard got into the act with 16 points on 8-of-12 shooting. In all, the Terps finished with a season's best showing from the field, hitting 33-of-56 shots (58.9 percent).

Hawkins said the team talked about not letting up at Clemson after the North Carolina win. "It takes one game at a time for us to get where we want to go," she said.

The Terps won their seventh straight since their lone league loss to North Carolina back on Jan. 3. Maryland dominated the rematch with the Tar Heels and kept the offensive show going at Littlejohn Coliseum. Nikki Dixon had 17 points to lead Clemson, which has lost seven of eight.

Maryland outrebounded Clemson 44-23 and held the Lady Tigers to 25 percent shooting (14 of 56) for the game.

Tianna Hawkins and Alyssa Thomas each scored 23 points and No. 7 Maryland pushed to beat pesky Wake Forest 73-63 on Friday night in Winston-Salem.

Malina Howard added 12 to help the Terrapins (19-3, 10-1 Atlantic Coast Conference) to their ninth straight win and 13th straight over the Demon Deacons (10-13, 3-8).

Maryland shot 54 percent, built a 20-point lead in the second half. Wake Forest cut it to single digits before regroup the Terps regrouped just in time to preserve a huge matchup Monday night at No. 4 Duke.

Chelsea Douglas scored 17 points for the Demon Deacons, who were denied their biggest victory in 20 years and lost their fifth straight. They clawed back in the game with a 31-14 run during a 12-minute stretch.

Douglas capped that run with a free throw with 3:01 left to pull them to 62-59. Dearica Hamby hit a layup to bring Wake Forest within three at 64-61 with 2 1/2 minutes left, but Maryland dug in to hold the Deacons scoreless the rest of the way.

Thomas scored seven points in the final 2:09, hitting five of six free throws and adding a layup to help the Terps pull away and set up their huge visit to Duke with a share of first place in the league on the line for Maryland.

Wake Forest had 23 turnovers, and the Terps turned those miscues into 29 points.

Thomas had her younger brother Devin -- the starting center as a freshman on the Wake Forest men's team -- watching this one from the stands.

She scored 11 of the Terps' first 15 points and needed barely over eight minutes to reach double figures for the 16th straight game.

The Terps started a 26-6 run six minutes into the first that carried over through the break. Chloe Pavlech's free throw with 16:50 to play pushed the lead to 48-28.

The seventh-ranked Maryland women's basketball team dropped a 71-56 match at No. 5 Duke Monday night in a physical battle between the ACC's top two teams.

Alyssa Thomas and Katie Rutan notched 14 points each, but it wasn't enough for the Terrapins (19-4, 10-2 ACC). Katie Rutan had 14 points and hit four 3-pointers as the Terps rallied from 10 points down.

Duke's Chelsea Gray scored 28 points. Tricia Liston had 17 points off the bench while Gray reeled off seven in a row midway through the second half after the Blue Devils (22-1, 12-0) trailed late.

After falling behind in the first half, the Terps closed the first half on a 10-3 sparked by a Rutan jumper to trail just 31-28 at the break.

Coming out of halftime, a Rutan three tied it two minutes into the second half. It stayed a one possession game and Chloe Pavlech's 3 with about 10:45 left gave Maryland the lead at 44-42. Three possessions later, Gray hit a three to take the advantage back.

Maryland cut it to five with just over five minutes to go. With 3:51 to play, head coach Brenda Freese was escorted out of the game and associate head coach Tina Langley took over on the sidelines. Gray hit the four free throws that followed to give Duke a 63-50 lead.

Liston twice pushed Duke's lead to double figures, the second time coming on her jumper with just under 5 minutes left in the half that made it 28-18. The Terps clawed back and cut it to 30-28 on Malina Howard's running jumper in the final minute, and it remained tight until Gray led the Devils' final run.

Tianna Hawkins and Alyssa Thomas combined for 47 points and 20 rebounds as No. 7 Maryland continued its dominance of Clemson with a 75-45 victory Thursday night.

Hawkins notched her 12th double-double of the season with 30 points and 12 boards. Thomas added 17 points for the Terrapins, who have won 13 consecutive games against the Tigers. The Terrapins (20-4 overall, 11-2 ACC) clinched their ninth-straight 20-win season.

Nikki Dixon had 13 points for the Tigers (6-18, 2-11), who have lost four consecutive games after beating Virginia Tech, 47-37, on Jan. 31.

Maryland out rebounded Clemson, 48-32, and is averaging plus-15.7 in rebounding margin, which is second in the nation behind Liberty.

Hawkins, who leads the ACC with 19 points per game, scored nine consecutive points, Chloe Pavlech made a 3-pointer and the Terps opened a 26-12 lead with 7:32 left in the first half. Clemson eventually settled down and scored seven consecutive points to end the half, cutting the margin to 33-25 at the break.

The Terrapins began to pull away when Hawkins and Thomas combined for all of the points in a 15-4 run to start the second half. Another jumper by Thomas with 7:46 remaining increased the lead to 61-38. Clemson could not pull within 20 points the rest of the way and the Terps cruised to their 10th victory in the past 11 games.

The victory kept Maryland tied with No. 14 North Carolina for second place in the ACC, two games behind Duke (23-1, 13-0).

Pavlech tied her career-high eight assists and Malina Howard notched a career-high 10 rebounds.

Hawkins moved closer to the 1,000-rebound mark. She currently has 992 in her career. Crystal Langhorne and Marissa Coleman are the only Terrapins ever to reach the 1,000-rebound plateau.

Alyssa Thomas had 27 points and 13 rebounds as No. 7 Maryland used a 26-3 run to handle border rival Virginia 73-44 on Sunday in Charlottesville.

Alicia DeVaughn added 14 points and Malina Howard 12 for the Terrapins (21-4, 12-2 ACC), who led 29-25 before two free throws by DeVaughn sparked the burst 3:46 before halftime. Katie Rutan added 11 points for Maryland, which took over sole possession of second place in the ACC with the win.

Alaina Franklin led Virginia (15-10, 7-7) with 21 points, but the Cavaliers lost for the fourth time in five games. The Maryland defense held Virginia to just three field goals in the second half.

Virginia missed 16 consecutive field goals tries during the stifling drought by the Terrapins' defense until Franklin's 3-pointer finally dropped 6:22 into the second half. It was the first points for Virginia since Franklin's putback with 4:06 remaining in the opening half.

For the first 13 minutes, Virginia hung with the Terps. Virginia trailed 23-13 until two free throws by Faith Randolph sparked a 10-2 run. Telia McCall scored inside and made a 3-pointer from the top of the key, and Franklin followed with another 3 from the right corner, prompting Terps coach Brenda Frese to call a timeout with just over seven minutes left in the game.

The Terps responded, holding the Cavaliers to one basket the rest of the way in a 12-2 run that made it 37-25 at the half. Virginia missed its last seven shots and was 10 of 31 (32.3 percent) for the half.

Thomas, who had 14 points, eight rebounds and three assists by halftime, opened the second half with a driving basket and foul-line jumper. After DeVaughn scored, Thomas hit another 12-footer in the lane, Rutan made a 3-pointer from the left corner and Thomas' free throw completed a 20-0 burst.

The Terps arrived No. 2 in the nation with a plus 15.8 rebounding differential, and their size advantage was evident from the outset. They got 22 of their 37 first-half points in the paint, out rebounded Virginia 20-13 in the opening 20 minutes and shot 55.6 percent from the field (15 of 27). Maryland finished with a 40-23 rebounding edge and shot 52.8 percent overall. Virginia shot 26 percent (13 of 50), and was just 3 of 19 in the second half.

Tianna Hawkins moved closer to the 1,000-rebound mark. She currently has 996 in her career. Crystal Langhorne and Marissa Coleman are the only Terrapins ever to reach the 1,000-rebound plateau. Just one men's player, Len Elmore, has reached the 1,000-rebound mark.

Alyssa Thomas scored a career-high 30 points and notched 12 rebounds to lead No. 8 Maryland to an 86-61 win at Boston College Thursday. Tianna Hawkins grabbed her 1000th career rebound in the win.

Hawkins scored 15 points, Malina Howard has 11, and Alicia DeVaughn added 10 points and eight rebounds for Maryland (22-4, 13-2 ACC). Thomas notched her 16th double-double of the season, which leads the ACC.

With four rebounds, Hawkins became the third woman -- and the fourth male or female -- in school history to grab 1,000 rebounds. Only Crystal Langhorne, Marissa Coleman and Len Elmore have reached the mark.

Kristen Doherty scored 18 points for Boston College (10-16, 4-11). Kerri Shields scored seven points to become the 22nd player in BC history to reach 1,000.

With the win, Maryland remained in second place in the ACC, behind Duke and ahead of North Carolina -- the only ACC teams to beat the Terps this season.

Maryland scored the game's first five points and led 15-5 with 13 minutes left in the first half. BC cut the deficit to four points midway through the first half, but the Terapins scored 12 of the last 14 points before halftime to open a 43-25 lead. They closed the first on an 18-4 run.

Boston College never got closer than 16 points in the second half. The Terrapins committed a season-long nine turnovers and six Terrapins hit seven threes.

With her 30 points, Thomas reached the 1,500-point mark. She is currently No. 12 on Maryland's all-time list with 1,516 career points.

The Maryland women's basketball team was edged 72-65 by third-seeded North Carolina in the ACC Semifinals Saturday. The Terrapins led until there was 5:40 to play, but Carolina went on a roll to take the win.

Alyssa Thomas led the Terrapins (24-7, 14-4 ACC) with 26 points, 12 rebounds and seven assists for her 20th double-double of the season. Senior Tianna Hawkins added 14 points and 10 rebounds and Katie Rutan scored 12 points, all of three-pointers.

"I thought it was definitely a tale of two different halves," head coach Brenda Frese said. "I thought we came out with tremendous energy. We defended, we rebounded. We did a really great job taking care of the basketball and came out with a sense of urgency. In the second half, it was a different team. I thought Carolina came out much more physical and much more aggressive."

The Terrapins came out strong in the first half, leading the whole way and eventually and by as much as 16. Rutan drained three of her threes that half for the lead.

The Tar Heels (28-5, 14-4) scored five straight points to open the second half, then went on an 18-3 run and cut it to two with just under 13 minutes to play. Thomas sunk a jumper to hold them off for another seven minutes.

North Carolina reserve Latifah Coleman drilled a 3-point field goal with 6:04 to play, the game was even at 52. She then put her team up 54-53 - its first lead since the opening minutes - and delivered a runner down the lane with 3:44 to play to stretch the lead to four. Thomas hit a free throw to cut it to one with two minutes to go, but Coleman responded with a jumper.

Alyssa Thomas had 29 points and 13 rebounds, and Maryland outmuscled Quinnipiac, 72-52, in the NCAA First Round in College Park Sunday.

The fourth-seeded Terrapins (25-7) trailed by nine in the first half, moved in front 27-23 at the break and dominated the second half against the smaller Bobcats, who couldn't stop Thomas' repeated forays into the lane.

Tianna Hawkins had 23 points and 16 rebounds for Maryland. Alicia DeV Vaughn added a career-high 17 rebounds and Katie Rutan had her career-high 11 boards. Thomas' double-double was her 20th of the season. She also notched five assists.

Felicia Barron scored 13 for No. 13 seed Quinnipiac (30-3), the Northeast Conference champions. The Bobcats had won 22 straight since a 74-57 defeat against Georgia Tech on Dec. 29.

Quinnipiac played well for much of the first half, but very little went right for the Bobcats after that. Maryland opened the second half with a 14-3 run to go up 41-26, and Quinnipiac couldn't score with enough consistency to make up the difference.

During the first 10 minutes after the break, Quinnipiac was 2 for 22 from the floor while being outscored 22-9. The Bobcats finished with a 23 percent field-goal percentage on 17-for-74 shooting.

On defense, Quinnipiac had no answer for the 6-foot-2 Thomas and the 6-3 Hawkins, as well as the other Terrapins. Both teams had 22 rebounds at half-time, but Maryland finished with a 59-41 advantage.

Although the Bobcats missed seven of their first eight shots, Maryland started 4 for 20 from the floor. The Terrapins trailed 21-12 before Thomas made a layup to spark a 9-0 spurt that included five points by Hawkins.

With her five free throws, Thomas has made 169 free throws this year, which topped Marissa Coleman's school record of 166 made in the 2007-08 season.
