

2005 REVIEW NOTEBOOK

TERPS KNOCK OFF TWO TOP 15 TEAMS, MAKE ACC TOURNEY

A QUICK LOOK AT 2005

- While the 2005 season failed to live up to the preseason hype surrounding the team, which looked to follow up a Sweet 16 NCAA Tournament performance in 2004 with another deep run in the NCAA Tournament, there were plenty of bright spots for the Terps.
- Playing the nation's toughest schedule, Maryland battled some of the top teams in the country and pulled off two major upsets, beginning with a 1-0 shutout of #11 Wake Forest at the end of September. Nataly Arias gave Maryland the victory by ripping a 35-yard blast past the Demon Deacon goalkeeper for the game's lone goal. The Terps pulled off another upset in their final home game of the season, sending the team's seven seniors out with a memorable victory, 2-1, over No. 8 Boston College at the end of October.
- Junior goalkeeper Nikki Resnick had a remarkable season and was rewarded as a first team All-ACC selection. She led the conference in saves per game in both conference games and all games. The Boca Raton, Fla., native, also set the Ludwig Field record for saves in a game with 14 against No. 1 North Carolina on Oct. 2.
- Another bright spot for the Terps was the emergence of a strong freshman class. Maryland got significant contributions from five freshmen - Kimmy Bunting, Aimee Bresani, Amanda Paizs, Lauren Sands and Kaila Sciascia. Bunting played three different positions, including starting and earning a shutout in goal. Bresani started each of the 17 matches that she played and missed only one game due to a broken nose. Paizs made five starts and helped solidify a defense that had to be shuffled due to various injuries. Sands provided an offensive spark off the bench and appeared in 11 games. Sciascia played in all 18 games, one of only eight Terps to do so and the only freshman, made eight starts and was third on the team with 31 shots.
- The seven seniors - Mel Anderson, Simone Dekker, Laura Desobry, Kimmy Francis, Lauren Krasko, Mallory Mahar and Danielle Malagari - left a lasting legacy which includes three NCAA Tournament appearances, the school's first Sweet 16 appearance since the tournament expanded to 64 teams, and 10 victories over Top 25 opponents. Since 2002, the Terps have shutout their opponents on 24 occasions, including 14 during the past two seasons.

ACC HONORS PAIR OF TERPS

- Junior goalkeeper Nikki Resnick and senior forward/midfielder Kimmy Francis were named to the All-ACC teams prior to the ACC Tournament.
- Resnick was named to the All-ACC first team, marking her first all-conference honor. She was an All-ACC Tournament selection in 2004. Francis earned the third second team All-ACC honor of her career.

RESNICK TOPS IN ACC

- Goalkeeper Nikki Resnick, a native of Boca Raton, Fla., led the ACC in saves per game (6.24). In Maryland's 10 ACC games last season she stopped 78 shots for an amazing 7.8 saves per game average.
- For the season Resnick has made 106 saves in 17 games. Among the other seven teams in the ACC Tournament, the next closest save total belongs to Clemson's Ashley Phillips with 82.

RESNICK SHUTS OUT THE ACC

- Nikki Resnick is fifth in career shutouts at Maryland with 11, but six of those shutouts have come against ACC opponents, including three ranked among the Top 11 in the nation at the time.
- In 2005, Resnick tied for eighth in the conference with four shutouts overall, but three of those have come in ACC play which ties her for fourth in shutouts in ACC games.

FRANCIS FINISHES IN FINE STYLE

- Senior captain Kimmy Francis moved up several of Maryland's all-time lists during the 2005 season.
- With an assist on Aimee Bresani's goal vs. BC, Francis moved into sole possession of third place on the career points chart with 67. She was tied for third with Robin McCullough with 66. In second place is Emmy Harbo with 140 points.
- With her goal vs. NC State, Francis moved into a sole-possession of the sixth spot on the all-time goal scoring list with 22 goals. She is two shy of tying Jackie Mynarski for fifth with 24 goals and three shy of Michelle Deville, who compiled 25 goals during her career. Francis is already one of only eight players in the history of Maryland women's soccer to score 20 or more goals in their careers.
- The senior from Richboro, Pa., is second on the career shots list with 225. With 11 shots in the 2-1 victory over NC State, Francis passed Emmy Harbo who fired 214 shots during her career.

LONG RANGE THREAT

- Sophomore midfielder Nataly Arias has made a habit of scoring big goals for the Terps in ACC action - or should it be long goals. Two of Arias' four career goals have come on 35-yard blasts to either tie or beat a Top 15 opponent.
- Last year with the Terps trailing 1-0 vs. No. 14 Florida State at home, Arias fired a 35-yarder with her right foot that sailed past FSU's keeper into the net to give the Terps a 1-1 tie.
- Arias did the exact same thing on Sept. 30 vs. No. 11 Wake Forest, but this time the game was scoreless at the time and the Terrapins were able to hold on for a 1-0 victory.

PLAYING OVERTIME

- Maryland has played six overtime games in 2005, tying for the second most in team history with the 1988 team. That '88 squad was 1-3-2 in those six games, while this year's Terrapins are 1-2-3.
- The record for most overtime games in a single season belongs to the 2004 Maryland team, which played in eight overtime contests (2-2-4).

PLAYING THE BEST

- Once again in 2005, Maryland's strength of schedule was the toughest in the nation, according to SoccerRatings.com. The Terrapins' opponent rating, which is the average rating of their opponents, is 1772. The only teams even close to Maryland are Washington (1762), Stanford (1747) and Santa Clara (1741).
- Another way to judge the quality of schedule Maryland played in 2005 is to look at its opponents combined overall record. The Terps 2005 opponents combined to go 262-114-30 (.682). Compare that to Florida State's (.604) or Penn State's (.596) (the two Terp opponents to make the College Cup) opponent winning percentage.
- Maryland played 11 of the 64 teams (17% of the field) in the 2005 NCAA Tournament. The Terps played 12 of their 18 games (66.7% of the schedule) against those 11 teams (Maryland played North Carolina twice in 2005) going 2-9-1.
- The Terps took on nine teams ranked in the final NSCAA regular season poll including three of the top five and five of the top 10. The Terps played No. 2

North Carolina (L, 0-4 at Ludwig, L, 1-3 in Cary, N.C.), hosted No. 3 Penn State (L, 0-3), at No. 5 Notre Dame (L, 0-6), at No. 7 Virginia (L, 0-2), at No. 10 Duke (L, 0-1), at No. 11 Florida State (L, 1-3), hosted No. 14 Boston College (W, 2-1 W), vs. No. 16 UConn at the Notre Dame Invitational (L, 1-2, 2OT), hosted No. 22 Yale (L, 0-1 L). Maryland also faced Clemson (T, 0-0, 2OT), which also received votes.

- During six of the past seven seasons, Maryland has at least one upset win or tie of a top-10 ranked team: a 4-3 win at No. 9 Duke on Sept. 19, 1999 and a 2-1 victory over Clemson on Oct. 17, 1999; a 3-1 win over No. 4 Penn State on Aug. 29, 2000; a 1-0 overtime over No. 8 Clemson on Oct. 13, 2001 and a 1-1 tie at No. 2 North Carolina last season, on Nov. 1, 2002. Most recently, the Terps stunned No. 3 UCLA 2-1 at the Virginia Soccer Classic on Sept. 12, 2004. A month and a half later, Maryland beat No. 10 Duke 1-0 in overtime at Ludwig Field. The Terps topped all of those victories with a 1-0 shutout of No. 2 seed Penn State in the 2004 NCAA Tournament. The win also snapped the Nittany Lions 39-game home winning streak and was head coach Paula Wilkins' first-ever loss at Jeffrey Field. The Terps extended that streak in 2005 with a 2-1 upset of No. 8 Boston College on Oct. 29 at Ludwig Field.

2004 GAME RECAPS

GAME 1 - AUG. 26

TOWSON.....0 (2OT)
MARYLAND.....0

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The University of Maryland women's soccer team opened its 2005 season with a 0-0 double-overtime tie with Towson Friday night at Ludwig Field.

The Terps dominated play, outshooting the Tigers 26-2 in 110 minutes of play, but could not get a shot past Towson goalkeeper Brandi Daniels, who stopped 13 Terrapin shots.

"My hat is off to Leslie Wray and Towson," said Maryland head coach Brian Pensky, who was coaching his first game as a collegiate head coach. "They defended well and found a way to get a tie.

"I thought our effort at times was very good. I'm disappointed for our players that we didn't find a way to get a goal and come out of this one with a victory. Now we have to learn from this and move on. We have an important game vs. Rhode Island on Sunday."

Towson packed its defensive zone and limited the number of quality scoring chances for the Terps. Maryland's best chance in the opening half came at the 15:48 mark when senior midfielder Kimmy Francis found All-American Mallory Mahar on the end of a corner kick. Mahar's header seemed to be heading into the top corner of the Towson net, but Daniels made a spectacular diving stop to preserve the 0-0 score.

After giving up 12 shots and seven corner kicks in the first half, the Tigers settled even more into a defensive scheme. Towson allowed only seven shots in the second half, with only two of those on goal.

Maryland's best scoring chance of the game came in the 94th minute when freshman forward Kimmy Bunting came away with a loose ball and had Daniels one-on-one inside the penalty box, but once again Daniels was able to rise to the occasion and made the game-saving stop.

Bunting found herself challenging the Tiger goal in the second overtime period in the 104th minute when sophomore Ashly Kennedy, who returned to action after missing the entire 2004 season with a knee injury, crossed the ball from deep in the left corner of the Towson backfield. Bunting was able to get a good header on the ball, but it sailed high over the Tiger net.

Francis finished the game with six shots, moving her into sole possession of third place on the school's all-time shots list. She now has 178 for her career.

GAME 2 - AUG. 28

RHODE ISLAND0
MARYLAND4

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - First-year head coach Brian Pensky had to wait an additional two days to get his first collegiate coaching win, but the 24th-ranked University of Maryland women's soccer team made sure the wait would not be any longer. The Terps scored three goals in the first half en route to a 4-0 shutout of Rhode Island Sunday afternoon at Ludwig Field.

"I'm very proud of this team," said Pensky. "Friday was a tough result and the challenge was to put that game behind us and look forward to today, and I think we did that."

Senior All-American Mallory Mahar started the Terrapin scoring with a great through ball to the feet of sophomore Kelly Rozumalski, who beat Rams goalkeeper Ria Carroll with a well-placed shot into the lower right corner of the net for the Terps first goal of the 2005 season.

Senior forward Melissa Anderson, who missed each of the last two seasons due to injuries, scored for the first time since September 22, 2002 to give the Terps a 2-0 lead in the 33rd minute. Mahar started the play with two shots inside Rhode Island's penalty box that were blocked. Mahar settled the ball for the third time, one-touched a pass to Anderson in the lower left side of the box and Anderson placed the ball into the lower right corner for the goal.

Maryland got its third goal of the first half in the 39th minute when junior defender Sarah Sample sent a long cross from the right side into the left side of the Rams' penalty box where senior midfielder Kimmy Francis finished the play with a spectacular header past Carroll for a 3-0 Terrapin lead.

Freshman Kimmy Bunting, who missed her senior season in high school with a knee injury, capped the scoring for the Terps with her first collegiate goal. Francis sent a long cross from outside the Rams' penalty box that Bunting headed past Carroll for the 4-0 lead.

On the day Maryland outshot Rhode Island 26-6 and the Terrapin defense allowed only three shots on goal. Junior goalkeeper Anna Sheveland made her first appearance since September 12, 2003 and set a career high with two saves.

Maryland was able to play all 23 healthy players with six seeing varsity action for the first time in their Terrapin careers.

"The team has worked hard for three weeks and it is rewarding to be able to play 23 players today," said Pensky. "But we have to move on from here and we look forward to a great challenge next weekend in South Bend."

GAME 3 - SEPT. 2

NOTRE DAME INVITATIONAL
MARYLAND1
NO. 9 UCONN2 (2OT)

NOTRE DAME, Ind. - The University of Maryland women's soccer team battled No. 9 Connecticut for nearly 110 minutes, but the Huskies were able to pull out a 2-1 victory in the second overtime in the first game of the Notre Dame Invitational at Alumni Field in Notre Dame, Ind.

UConn's Brittany Taylor scored the game winner in the 109th minute when she was able to take a long ball from Jennifer Sullivan, split the Maryland defense and fire a shot into the far right corner of the Terrapin goal. The goal capped two tremendously hard-fought overtime periods, during which neither team could really mount a serious threat.

"This was a great challenge," said Maryland head coach Brian Pensky. "UConn was a very good team tonight, but we were quite good as well. Our players deserved a better result. We battled for nearly 110 minutes and at no point did we believe we were going to lose."

For a game that ended up being a battle of attrition, guts and gritty defensive work, it didn't start out that way.

The Huskies jumped on top of the Terps in the ninth minute when UConn capitalized on a Maryland turnover to take a 1-0 lead. Kristi Lefebvre corralled the loose ball and sent a through ball into forward Brittany Tegeler. Terp goalkeeper Nikki Resnick came out to get the ball, but Tegeler beat her to it and touched the ball into the Maryland net for the early advantage.

That lead would not last though, as the Terrapins tied the score in the 12th minute on sophomore midfielder Nataly Arias' first goal of the season. Senior Danielle Malagari, making her first start of the 2005 season, sent a free kick into the lower right corner of the Husky box. UConn keeper Stephanie Labbe couldn't hold the ball and Maryland forward Simone Dekker sent the loose ball to the front of the net where Arias' finished it from two yards out.

The Terps appeared to take a 2-1 lead in the 27th minute on a 40-yard blast from Malagari that found the upper right corner of the Husky goal, but a controversial offsides call nullified the goal.

The second half started out much like the first with the offenses coming out trying to get a score on the board quickly. Freshman Kaila Sciascia had the half's first real scoring chance when she settled a loose ball just outside the Husky penalty box and fired a shot that just went over the crossbar. UConn countered that offensive threat with one of its own less than a minute later. Tegeler sent a long free kick into the Terps' penalty area where Alisse Kosloski got a good header on the ball, but this one too sailed over the top of the crossbar.

Connecticut seemed to get its second wind near the end of the second half and pressured the Maryland goal in the final two minutes. The Huskies did get shots at the Terp net in the closing moments from Lefebvre and Taylor, but both of those were wide to the right.

The teams wrestled for control during the first overtime, but neither team was able to get a quality shot on goal.

The second overtime saw each team get a couple of opportunities before Taylor's game-winning goal. For the Terps, All-American Mallory Mahar settled a loose ball at the top of the UConn box, but this time Labbe was able to hold on for the save.

Despite the loss, the Maryland team showed tremendous determination, especially in the defensive backfield, where defenders Sarah Sample, Lauren Krasko, Ashly Kennedy and Malagari limited UConn to just four shots on goal.

"This is a tough result for us," said Pensky, "but we must put it behind us and get ready to play the defending national champions on Sunday, which is not only a challenge, but a tremendous opportunity as well."

GAME 4 - SEPT. 4 NOTRE DAME INVITATIONAL MARYLAND 0 NO. 1 NOTRE DAME..... 6

NOTRE DAME, Ind. - The challenge in front of the University of Maryland women's soccer team was a daunting one, facing the No. 1 ranked Notre Dame Fighting Irish, the 2004 NCAA Champions, at Alumni Field on the campus of Notre Dame.

That challenge got even bigger in the 11th minute when defender Ashly Kennedy received a controversial red card, which resulted in the Terps having to play a man down for the remainder of the game. The resulting free kick came just outside the Terp penalty box and Irish freshman Kerri Hanks fired a direct kick around the Maryland wall, but Nikki Resnick was there to make the diving save, the first of many for the junior who set her career high with 11 saves.

The man-up advantage reared its head a minute later when All-American Katie Thorlakson got free of the Terrapin defense and blazed a shot at the Terp net, but once again Resnick came up with the big save, but she was unable to control the ball and Hanks was there to put in the rebound for a 1-0 Notre Dame lead.

Resnick rose to the occasion again in the 18th minute on another free kick for Notre Dame just outside the 18-yard box. Thorlakson took the kick and bended the ball over the Maryland wall toward the lower left corner of the net, but Resnick was there to make another diving stop.

In the 29th minute, just moments after the Irish took a 2-0 lead on a goal by Carrie Dew, Resnick denied Notre Dame again with a diving punch save off a drive by Brittany Bock.

The Irish finished the first half with a 3-0 advantage and added another three goals in the second half for a 6-0 win.

Maryland finished the Inn at St. Mary's Hotel Classic with a 0-2 record, but senior All-American Mallory Mahar and junior defender Sarah Sample were named to the all-tournament team.

GAME 5 - SEPT. 8 MARYLAND/adidas CLASSIC VILLANOVA 2 MARYLAND 0

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The University of Maryland women's soccer team lost a 2-0 decision to Villanova Thursday night at Ludwig Field, but the long-lasting effects from the game may not be known for a couple of days.

The Wildcats took a 1-0 lead in the ninth minute when Lindsay Finnegan was able to get a foot on a loose ball in front of the Terrapin net and put home her second goal of the season. But the score wasn't the most important part of the play, as Maryland goalkeeper Nikki Resnick had to leave the game with an undisclosed injury and was not able to return.

Things continued to go from bad to worse for the Terps in the 20th minute when senior All-American Mallory Mahar had to leave the game due to injury.

Despite losing two of its leaders, Maryland continued to battle and was able to control the flow and possession of the ball in the early minutes of the second half. But all it took was one possession in the 49th minute for Finnegan to tack on her second goal of the night on a 30-yard shot into the upper right corner of the Terp net for a 2-0 Villanova lead.

For the game, Maryland outshot the Wildcats 12-6, including a 7-4 advantage in the second half.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Head coach Brian Pensky did not know what to expect from his University of Maryland women's soccer team today at Ludwig Field. With all three goalkeepers unavailable to play and All-American Mallory Mahar out for the season, today's game vs. Rutgers was filled with variables.

Those questions were answered with a 1-0 win over Rutgers in the final game of the Maryland/adidas Classic and a gutsy performance in goal by freshman Kimmy Bunting, who made four saves en route to recording her first career shutout.

"I'm very proud of our team today," said Pensky. "They are showing tremendous resiliency right now. I've told them over the last three or four days that they deserve for things to go their way. Today we played well, created a lot of chances and things went our way."

Bunting's performance was even more amazing given the fact that she had played in each of the Terps' first five games as a forward and scored a goal in Maryland's 4-0 win over Rhode Island and missed her entire senior season in high school with a torn ACL.

"I didn't even blink and eye," said Pensky of having to play Bunting in goal, "because Kimmy is such a great athlete. She has such a good feel for the game as a field player and that worked to her advantage today as a goalkeeper."

The Terps gave Bunting an early 1-0 cushion in the seventh minute when senior co-captain Kimmy Francis sent a corner kick from the far left side of the field across to the right corner of the six-yard box where redshirt-sophomore Ashly Kennedy headed the ball into the Scarlet Knight goal. For Kennedy, the goal is just the second of her career.

"We've been talking a lot about serving the ball deep and giving ourselves a chance to score," said Pensky. "Kimmy [Francis] served a great ball and Ashly did well to get on the end of it and finish it."

That 1-0 lead would prove to hold up as Maryland proved that sometimes a good defense is a strong offense. The Terps continued to pressure Rutgers throughout the afternoon, outshooting the Scarlet Knights 23-8. The Maryland back line of Danielle Malagari, Lauren Krasko, Kennedy and Aimee Bresani played well enough so that Bunting was never really challenged.

GAME 7 - SEPT. 16 NO. 2 PENN STATE.....3 MARYLAND.....0

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The University of Maryland women's soccer team battled No. 2 Penn State, but could not pull off the upset as the Nittany Lions defeated the Terps, 3-0, Friday night at Ludwig Field.

Maryland held the potent Penn State offense in check for much of the first half, but sophomore defender Denay Riley scored her first collegiate goal in the 42nd minute by heading a loose ball off a corner kick into the Terrapin goal for a 1-0 lead.

Penn State scored its second goal in the 73rd minute when a Terp defender was called for a foul on freshman Allie Long inside the penalty box and All-American Tiffany Weimer was able to score on the penalty kick.

For the Terps, junior goalkeeper Nikki Resnick returned after missing much of the Villanova game and all of the Rutgers game and made six saves.

GAME 8 - SEPT. 18 [RV] YALE.....1 (OT) MARYLAND.....0

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The University of Maryland women's soccer team lost a 1-0 heartbreaker in overtime to the Yale Bulldogs Sunday afternoon at Ludwig Field.

Yale freshman Maggie Westfal gave the Bulldogs their sixth-straight victory by finishing a cross from senior Jamie Ortega into the lower right corner of the Maryland goal in the 95th minute.

"We lost 1-0 to a very good team," said Maryland head coach Brian Pensky. "We knew Yale was going to be tough, because they only gave up three goals in seven games coming into today. We had a few real quality chances, unfortunately they didn't go our way and neither did the game."

The best of those chances for the Terps came in the 64th minute. Freshman Kimmy Bunting sent a through-ball to a streaking Kelly Rozumalski, who beat the Yale defender and only had Bulldog goalkeeper, Susan Starr, to beat. Rozumalski put a move on Starr, beating the keeper, but a Yale defender was able to slip in front of the Bulldog goal and make the game-saving kick-save.

This concluded the non-conference schedule for the Terps, who begin ACC play on Thursday, September 22, at Clemson.

"We start fresh on Thursday," said Pensky. "The challenge for all of us is to put this result behind us and start the ACC off on the right note this week."

CLEMSON, S.C. - In a closely fought contest, the University of Maryland women's soccer team opened its ACC schedule with a 0-0 tie at Clemson Thursday night.

"We saw the fight that our players have in them tonight and I'm proud of that," said Terrapin head coach Brian Pensky. "Our team defending was good tonight and, at times, we found a real good rhythm in the attack. We just need to find a way to finish the job."

Junior goalkeeper Nikki Resnick, who was making just her second appearance since leaving the Villanova game with an injured leg, made nine saves to preserve the tie for the Terps. The nine saves marked Resnick's second-highest single-game total of the season, falling two shy of the career-best 11 saves she made at Notre Dame on September 4.

Offensively, Maryland was led by senior Kimmy Francis and junior Sarah Sample, with each taking four shots. As a team, Clemson outshot the Terps 16-12.

GAME 10 - SEPT. 30 NO. 11 WAKE FOREST...0 MARYLAND.....1

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Midfielder Nataly Arias scored the goal and goalkeeper Nikki Resnick made the saves to give the University of Maryland women's soccer team a 1-0 victory over No. 11 Wake Forest Friday night at Ludwig Field.

"Simply put, our team deserved a win like this," said Maryland head coach Brian Pensky, who picked up his first win over a Top 25 team with the victory. "Nataly scored a tremendous goal, once again Nikki was great, and out whole team was extremely connected throughout. This win puts us in good position in the ACC and we look forward to a great challenge on Sunday."

Arias, a native of Alexandria, Va., gave the Terps the win on a 35-yard blast in the 66th minute. The play started on a corner kick by senior forward Kimmy Francis. The Deacons cleared the corner kick, but the ball ended up on the right foot of Arias, who laced a shot into the top of the Wake Forest net.

The Deacons, now down a goal, stepped up the pressure on the Terrapin defense, but Resnick rose to the challenge. The junior from Boca Raton, Fla., made six of her 10 saves in the second half, including four after Maryland took its 1-0 lead.

Wake Forest had two great scoring chances late in the contest, but Resnick made amazing saves to preserve the 1-0 lead. In the 82nd minute Resnick found herself one-on-one with Elizabeth Remy and made a twisting punch save to clear the ball away from the net. Remy was again the victim of Resnick's heroics two minutes later when Sarah Kozey played a thru-ball to Remy on the right side of the Terrapin 18-yard box. Remy laced a shot toward the upper left corner of the Maryland goal, but Resnick dove and knocked the ball away from the net.

Neither team was able to get on the scoreboard in the first half, but both teams had opportunities. In the fourth minute freshman Aimee Bresani was able to get a head on a corner kick by Francis, but the shot was blocked by a Wake defender.

The Demon Deacons answered back in the eighth minute when Kozey fired a shot from the left side of the box, Resnick was there for the save, but could not control the ball. The rebound went straight back to Kozey, who headed a shot back at the Terrapin net, but Resnick was there again to make the save.

The Terps' best opportunity of the first half came in the 31st minute when Francis pressured a ball played back to Doe, who sent a bad pass right to Kelly Rozumalski just outside of the 18 yard box. Rozumalski tried to chip the ball over Doe, but got a little too much on the shot and it sailed over the crossbar.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Junior goalkeeper Nikki Resnick saved a Ludwig Field record 14 shots, but the University of Maryland women's soccer team fell to No. 1-ranked North Carolina 4-0 in front of 1,727 fans at Ludwig Field Sunday afternoon.

Maryland battled the top-ranked Tar Heels in the first half, allowing only one goal, which came in the 17th minute. North Carolina's Kacey White started the scoring play with a short corner kick to Lori Chalupny, who tried to cross the ball in front of the Maryland net. Maryland sophomore midfielder Ashly Kennedy tried to clear the cross, but the ball deflected awkwardly off of her left leg into the Terrapin goal.

"I thought we were very good in the first 45 minutes today," said Maryland head coach Brian Pensky. "Then in the second half - the combination of fatigue from Friday's emotional win and yielding a second goal - we lost the edge that had made us successful."

The Terps continued to battle the Tar Heels and Resnick was stellar in net, saving several one-on-one scoring opportunities, but North Carolina's offense finally broke through in the 49th minute when White sent a long cross from the lower right corner of Maryland's defensive third to Chalupny, who received the ball at the top of the 18-yard box. Chalupny settled the pass to her right foot, but miss-hit the ball. But Resnick was screened out of the play by UNC's Yael Averbuch and Chalupny's soft shot made it through to the back of the net.

Heather O'Reilly, who was previously stopped twice in one-on-one situations with Resnick, finally got one past the Terrapin keeper in the 70th minute on a short breakaway. Resnick did get a piece of the shot, but O'Reilly had enough pace on the ball to get it into the net.

Freshman Mandy Moraca finished off the scoring with her first collegiate goal on a chip shot over Resnick in the 79th minute.

Resnick stopped seven shots in each half to set a Ludwig Field record of 14 saves in a game. The previous mark was held by Riki-Ann Serrins, who stopped 13 shots in a 3-1 win over Penn State.

GAME 12 - OCT. 6 MARYLAND 1 NO. 17 FLORIDA STATE .3

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. - The University of Maryland women's soccer team lost a 3-1 decision to No. 14 Florida State Thursday evening at the Seminole Soccer Complex.

For the second straight game, the Terps (3-7-2, 1-2-1 ACC) gave its opponent its first goal on an own goal. This time, Florida State (10-2-0, 3-2-0 ACC) took the early lead in the third minute when a Maryland player deflected the ball into the Terrapin net.

Less than two minutes later the Terrapins answered back to knot the score at 1-1. Senior co-captain Kimmy Francis dribbled through the Seminole defense to the top of the 18-yard box, where she launched a shot past FSU goalkeeper Ali Mims into the back post.

The game remained tied through the remainder of the first half, but Florida State changed that quickly after the halftime break. In the 48th minute, Sel Kuralay, the Seminole's leading scorer, tallied her 11th goal of the season on a close shot from the left wing to give FSU a 2-1 lead.

Florida State added an insurance goal in the 61st minute on Katrina Schmidt's first goal of the season.

The Seminoles outshot the Terrapins 22-10 on the evening. Terrapin goalkeeper Nikki Resnick, who averaged 11 saves per game in Maryland's first three ACC games this season, stopped just five FSU shots.

GAME 13 - OCT. 9 MARYLAND 0 MIAMI 2

CORAL GABLES, Fla. - For the second time this season the University of Maryland women's soccer team had to play a significant portion of a game down a man. And for the second time this season it was too big of an obstacle to overcome as the Terps lost 2-0 at Miami this afternoon at Cobb Stadium in Coral Gables, Fla.

The Hurricanes jumped out to an early 1-0 lead in the second minute of the game when Miami's Kelly Pflunger won the ball inside Maryland's 18-yard box and chipped the ball past Terrapin goalkeeper Nikki Resnick for the goal.

The two teams battled back and forth throughout the remainder of the first half with neither side able to score.

The game's turning point came in the 50th minute when senior defender Danielle Malagari was given back-to-back yellow cards and was ejected from the game.

Nine minutes later Miami added the insurance goal when Rebecca Tweneboah finished a cross from the right side of the Maryland goal by Paulett Ricks-Chambers.

Junior midfielder Sarah Sample led the Terrapin offensive attack with four shots, while Resnick finished the game with six saves.

GAME 14 - OCT. 13 NC STATE 1 (OT) MARYLAND 2

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Sarah Sample's first goal as a Maryland Terrapin gave the Terps' women's soccer team a 2-1 overtime victory over NC State Thursday night at Ludwig Field.

"Our defensive pressure in the first half was very good," said Terrapin head coach Brian Pensky. "Our possession, when we won it, was some of our best all year. We showed great resiliency in overtime by finding a way to finish off a win that this team, and this program, needed very much."

Maryland, which dominated the game and out shot the Wolfpack 30-13, took an early 1-0 lead on Kimmy Francis' team-leading third goal of the season in the ninth minute of play. An NC State defender was whistled for a foul just outside the Wolfpack 18-yard box, giving Francis a free kick from 24 yards. The senior from Richboro, Pa., sent a low line drive, through a pack of NC State and Maryland players and past Wolfpack goalkeeper Kim Selz, into the lower left corner of the net.

The Terps continued to pressure the Wolfpack defense, but were unable to score another goal in regulation on Selz, who finished the game with 12 saves.

NC State, which didn't have many quality offensive opportunities, tied the game in the 78th minute when Carol Tognetti found the ball at her feet after a scramble in front of the Maryland goal. Tognetti fired a shot that bounced off the bottom of the crossbar and into the Terrapin net for her fifth goal of the season.

Francis' goal, the 22nd of her career, brings her career point total to 66, which ties her for third all-time at Maryland with Robin McCullough. The goal also gave Francis sole possession of sixth place in career goals scored. She also fired a career-high 11 shots, which raises her career total to 218, which places her second on that all-time list.

Defensively for the Terrapins, junior goalkeeper Nikki Resnick made seven stops. Maryland played the entire game with three freshman in the defensive backfield - Aimee Bresani, Kimmy Bunting and Amanda Paizs.

MARYLAND 0
No. 6 DUKE 1

DURHAM, N.C. - Junior goalkeeper Nikki Resnick made nine saves and allowed only one goal, a deflection off the left post, but that one goal was the difference in Maryland's 1-0 defeat at No. 6 Duke in Durham, N.C., Sunday afternoon.

The Blue Devils controlled the first half, outshooting the Terps 10-0, but it wasn't until the 41st minute that Duke found its way onto the scoreboard. Christie McDonald tallied her fourth goal of the season on a header off the left post from a cross by Carolyn Ford.

Maryland played a controlled game, but found itself pressing offensively in the second half. Freshman Kaila Sciascia had the Terps' best scoring chance in the 74th minute, but Blue Devil goalkeeper Allison Lipsher was there to make the save, her only one of the game.

GAME 16 - OCT. 19

VIRGINIA TECH. . . 0 (2OT)
MARYLAND 0

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The University of Maryland women's soccer team and the Virginia Tech Hokies played 110 minutes, but neither team could find the net and had to settle for a 0-0 tie Wednesday night at Ludwig Field.

"This result is disappointing," said Maryland head coach Brian Pensky. "We felt confident coming into tonight, based on our last two performances, that we were going to get a win. I thought that our players battled hard, particularly in the second half and overtime, but unfortunately we were not able to finish our chances."

No. 8 VIRGINIA 2

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. - The University of Maryland women's soccer team played well and had its share of scoring chances at No. 8 Virginia Sunday afternoon at Klöckner Stadium in Charlottesville, Va., but was twice thwarted by the crossbar in a 2-0 defeat.

Senior defender Danielle Malagari nearly gave the Terps a 1-0 lead in the 32nd minute when she collected a ball on the far right side of the field, just across the midfield stripe. Without hesitation, Malagari fired a left-footed shot from more than 40 yards out toward the upper left corner of the Cavalier net that just nicked the crossbar and bounced over the goal. The shot was nearly identical to the one she took against Virginia Tech on October 19, when the Hokie keeper was able to tip her shot from 42 yards off the crossbar and over the goal.

Less than a minute later, Terrapin freshman Kaila Sciascia found senior co-captain Kimmy Francis with a nice through-ball that Francis collected and fired at the Cavalier net, but Christina de Vries was there to make the save, one of her three on the afternoon.

The Terps almost broke the scoreless tie with less than three minutes to play in the first half when senior midfielder Simone Dekker was able to create some space but her shot sailed high over the Virginia goal.

The Cavaliers came out strong at the start of the second half, but junior goalkeeper Nikki Resnick, who finished with seven saves on the afternoon, made back-to-back saves in the first five minutes to keep the game scoreless.

But Virginia was finally able to break through in the 57th minute when a Maryland foul gave the Cavaliers a free kick from 20 yards that All-American Sarah Huffman finished for her second goal of the season. The Wahoos would tack on the insurance goal in the 64th minute when Jess Ronstedt scored her eighth goal of the season.

Virginia kept up the offensive pressure, but was unable to get another score past Resnick and the Terrapin defense, which gave the Terps one more opportunity to try to get a goal on the board and get back into the game.

Dekker struck a great ball in the 88th minute that just clipped the crossbar, while freshman forward Lauren Sands had a good scoring chance in the 89th minute, but de Vries was there for the save.

GAME 18 - OCT. 29 NO. 8 BOSTON COLLEGE 1 MARYLAND 2

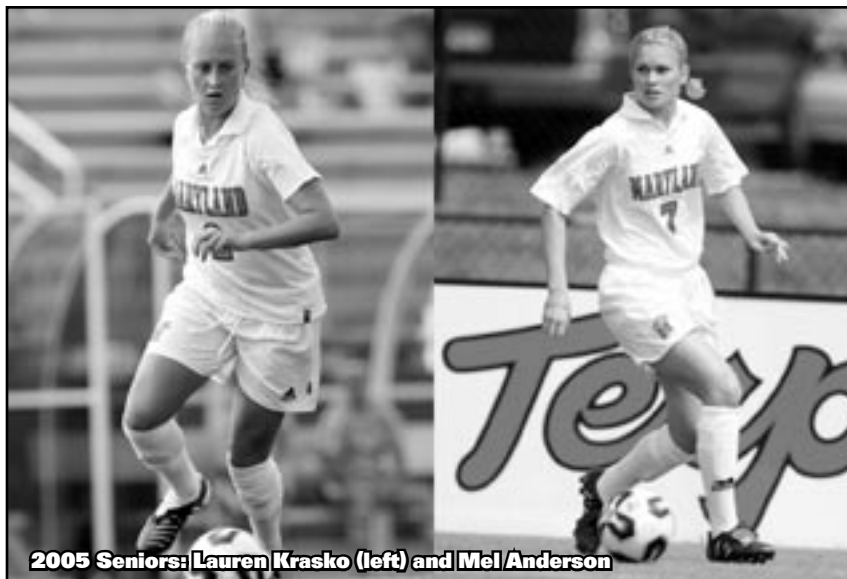

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - It might have been "Senior Night" at Ludwig Field, but it was a pair of freshmen that scored the goals to give the University of Maryland women's soccer team a 2-1 victory over No. 8 Boston College Saturday evening.

"Our seniors deserved a night like this," said Maryland head coach Brian Pensky. "Right now it feels very good to have beaten a team like Boston College. They are hard-nosed, competitive group and we matched that tonight. This win should give us the confidence we need going into the ACC Tournament next week."

The Eagles had given up only 10 goals coming into the game and the Terps had only scored 10 goals all season long, but it was Maryland that jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the 33rd minute. Senior midfielder Simone Dekker started the play, dribbling through the midfield and sending a through-ball right to the feet of freshman Kimmy Bunting, who was playing forward for the first time Sept. 18 vs. Yale. Bunting made a terrific run down the left side of the BC defensive third and crossed the ball across her body and headed toward the Eagle net. BC goalkeeper Arianna Criscione came off her line to meet Bunting, but Bunting beat Criscione with the dribble and fired a shot from the left side of the Boston College goal. The shot hit the far right post, but rebounded into the Eagle goal for the 1-0 Terrapin lead.

The game would remain tied until the 50th minute when the Terps would counter with a corner kick goal of their own. Senior co-captain Kimmy Francis started the play with a corner kick from the far right corner that sailed to the middle of the Boston College six-yard box. Sophomore Nataly Arias was able to get on the end of the corner and get a solid header at the BC goal, but an Eagle defender was at the right post and knocked the ball back out where freshman Aimee Bresani, who was in the midfield away from the corner kick due to a broken nose, made a run into the box and headed the ball into the Boston College goal for a 2-1 Maryland lead.

The goal was the first collegiate goal for Bresani and Francis was credited with an assist, which moved her into sole possession of third place on the school's all-time points list with 67.

Armed with a one-goal lead, the Terrapins packed their defensive zone and did not allow the Eagles a quality scoring opportunity in the remaining 40 minutes.

CARY, N.C. - The University of Maryland women's soccer team's season ended with a 3-1 loss to No. 3 North Carolina in the first round of the ACC Tournament on Wednesday night at the SAS Soccer Park in Cary, N.C.

Carolina scored three times in the first 10 minutes, two by Lindsay Tarpley, the 2003 NCAA Player of the Year, and one by Jamie Gilbert, to take an early 3-0 lead.

The Terrapins responded to the challenge by stiffening their defense and not allowing another goal in the game.

Maryland kept fighting away in the second half, holding the Tar Heel offense in check. The Terps finally broke through the Carolina defense in the 70th minute to make the score 3-1.

The play started with a handball call on a Carolina defender that gave Maryland a direct free kick from just outside the UNC penalty box. Senior co-captain Kimmy Francis took the free kick and laced a shot at the Carolina net, but UNC goalkeeper Aly Winget tipped the shot over the crossbar for a Terrapin corner kick.

Francis sent the corner kick to the far left of the Tar Heel goal mouth, where redshirt-sophomore Ashly Kennedy got on the end of the cross and headed it at the goal, but a UNC defender was there to make the team save. The rebound bounced off of a couple of players before Kennedy one-timed it into the top right corner of the Carolina net for her second goal of the season.

Maryland ends its season with an overall record of 5-11-3. The game marked the final chapter in the careers of seven Terrapin seniors: Melissa Anderson, Simone Dekker, Laura Desobry, Kimmy Francis, Lauren Krasko, Mallory Mahar and Danielle Malagari.
