#2 MARYLAND vs. #4 JAMES MADISON

Saturday, March 24 | 12:00 p.m. | BTN Plus ($) Field Hockey & Lacrosse Complex | College Park, Md.

QUICK HITS

• The No. 2 Maryland women's lacrosse team will face its second top-ten opponent in three days, hosting No. 4 James Madison for its annual Diabetes Awareness Game on Saturday at the Field Hockey & Lacrosse Complex.

• Maryland heads into this weekend's contest with a 7-1 record and No. 2 ranking. In the Terps last game, Maryland defeated #8 Penn, 13-7 off a strong start to both halves, outscoring the Quakers 9-0 in the first 15 minutes of each half and 13 saves by Megan Taylor.

• Megan Whittle (33 goals, eight assists) leads the team with 41 points, while junior midfielder Jen Giles (23 goals, 10 assists) stands right behind her with 33. Whittle leads the Big Ten in many offensive categories, including goals per game (4.14), points per game (5.14) and free position percentage (82.6%) and leads the country in free position goals per game with 2.71, after scoring a career-best six against UMBC. Giles is second in the conference in points per game (4.14), while leading the league in shot percentage (57.1%) and ranking third in free position goals per game (1.14).

• The Terps boast one of the nation's best offenses, ranking third in the country in goals per game with 17.14. Maryland has scored over 15 goals in every game this season. Of Maryland's 120 goals on the season, 44 have come on free position, as the Terps also lead the nation in free position percentage, hitting on 62.0% of their attempts.

• Megan Whittle became the fastest player to reach 200 career goals last year and stands at 247 through eight games in her senior season. In wins over UMBC and Hofstra, while scoring 12 goals, Whittle passed both Taylor Cummings and Karri Ellen Johnson to move to second all-time in Maryland lore. With 21 more goals, Whittle can become Maryland's career scoring leader, passing Jen Adams.

• The Terps will play its second of two top-ten opponents on Saturday, in #4 James Madison. This season, Maryland is 3-1 against top-ten foes, while over the past four seasons, the Terps hold an incredible 23-2 record against teams in the top ten in each of the major polls.

TERPS FACE #4 JAMES MADISON IN ANNUAL DIABETES AWARENESS GAME

The No. 2 Maryland women's lacrosse team will host No. 4 James Madison for the annual Type 1 Diabetes Awareness game Saturday at noon.

For the fourth consecutive season, the Terps will raise money and wear blue warmups for one game to raise awareness for Type 1 diabetes.

Head coach Cathy Reese's oldest son, Riley, was diagnosed with Type 1 diabetes. In three seasons, the Terps have raised more than $42,000.

#2 TERPS STIFLE #8 PENN

Taking advantage of a strong start that saw the Terps lead 5-0 midway through the first half, the No. 2 Maryland women's lacrosse team defeated No. 8 Penn 13-7 at Frankin Field on Thursday afternoon.

The Terps offense was led all day by the trio of Megan Whittle, Jen Giles and Caroline Steele. Maryland's three season-leading goal scorers got the Terps started on the right foot, combining for five goals in the first 15 minutes of the contest to give their team a 5-0 lead.

Goalie Megan Taylor was strong in goal all afternoon, posting her highest save percentage of the season at .650. Taylor tied a season-high with 13 saves, seven in the first half and six in the second. The junior also totaled a season-best three groundballs.

TERPS - DUKES HISTORY

Maryland leads the all-time series with James Madison, 40-3 .

The two programs met last season in Harrisonburg, with the No. 1 Terps defeating the Dukes, 16-11. Megan Whittle, Caroline Steele and Kali Hartshorn each scored three goals while Megan Taylor made seven saves in 45 minutes.

James Madison is undefeated this season at 8-0, holding a #4 ranking. The Dukes defeated Richmond, 14-9 in their last contest.

CONTROLLING THE DRAW

As a team, Maryland stands fourth in the the nation and leads the Big Ten in draw controls per game, with 17.71, with Kali Hartshorn and Meghan Siverson leading the charge. Against UNC (2/24), Hartshorn posted a career-best 12 draw controls. Siverson then had a career-high of her own, 13 draw controls against UMBC (2/28). Against Hofstra (3/3), the pair combined for 15. The next week at No. 8 Syracuse, Maryland held a 22-8 advantage in the circle, to lead to 18 goals. Maryland has 140 as a team through eight games, with Siverson and Hartshorn combining for 79 of those (56.4%).

STEELE CITY

Junior attacker Caroline Steele has been on a tear over the past three games, leading the Terps in both points and goals, with 15 and 12. Against the Orange, Steele tallied a career-best seven points with five goals and two assists. Steele then followed that up, with a four goal, one assist game against Hopkins the following week. Steele notched her third consecutive game with a hat-trick against No. 8 Penn. The junior now stands second on the team in both goals (23) and assist (seven), while ranking third in points (30).

CATHY REESE

12TH SEASON AT MARYLAND/15TH OVERALL
MARYLAND '98

One of the most decorated coaches at the collegiate level, former Maryland standout and three-time IWLCA National Coach of the Year Cathy Reese led the Terps to their 14th national title in 2017.

As a student-athlete, assistant coach and head coach for the Terrapins, Reese has earned 11 NCAA Championships.

The Terps competed perfection in 2017 as the team went 23-0 and won the program's 14th national title. Maryland won both the Big Ten regular season and tournament titles. Five Terps were honored as All-Americans while Maryland featured the IWLCA National Midfielder, Defender and Goalie of the Year in Zoe Stukenberg, Nadine Hadnagy and Megan Taylor. Zoe Stukenberg went on to win the Tewaaraton Award, Maryland's sixth-straight honoree.

Maryland had a near-perfect season in 2016 as the Terps posted a 22-1 record with the only blemish coming in the national championships game. Maryland won the Big Ten regular season and tournament titles. Five Terps earned All-American honors while six players were named All-Big Ten. Taylor Cummings finished her playing career as the most decorated player in lacrosse, three-peating as the Tewaaraton and Honda Award winner and as the IWLCA National Midfielder of the Year. Alice Mercer garnered IWLCA National Defender of the Year honors.

The Terps garnered their second-straight NCAA Championship in 2015 under Reese. Maryland posted a 21-1 overall record and earned the first-ever Big Ten Regular Season Championship with a 5-0 conference record. Reese was named the IWLCA National Coach of the Year for the third time while Taylor Cummings and Megan Douty repeated as the IWLCA National Midfielder and Defender of the Year, respectively. Five Terps were named IWLCA All-Americans while eight players earned All-Big Ten honors. Cummings repeated as the Tewaaraton Award and Honda Award winner while posting her best season to date under Reese.

Reese led the Terps to their second NCAA title in five years in 2014. Maryland garnered a 23-1 record on their way to a sixth consecutive Atlantic Coast Conference title in the team's last season in the conference. Reese was named ACC Coach of the Year for a league-high seventh time. The Terps boasted six IWLCA All-American, including IWLCA National Midfielder of the Year Taylor Cummings and IWLCA National Defender of the Year Megan Douty. Cummings went on to become the first sophomore to earn the women's Tewaaraton Award. Reese capped the season with IWLCA Regional and National Coach of the Year honors.

The Terps were near perfect in 2013, going 22-1 with its lone loss coming in heartbreaking fashion in overtime against North Carolina in the national title game. Maryland won its unprecedented fifth straight ACC title and senior Katie Schwarzmann won the Tewaaraton Award for the second straight year. The Terps boasted the IWLCA Midfielder and Attacker of the Year in Schwarzmann and Alex Aust. Taylor Cummings was named ACC Rookie of the Year.

Maryland captured its conference-record fourth consecutive ACC title in 2012 and landed in the final four for the fourth straight season. Reese mentored her second Tewaaraton winner - Katie Schwarzmann - and landed four student-athletes on the IWLCA All-America list.

Reese's Terps won their third-straight conference championship in 2011 while landing in the final four of the NCAA Women's Lacrosse Championship for the third consecutive season. Maryland concluded the season with a 21-2 record, falling short in the title game to Northwestern. The Terps put together another stellar season, boasting two Tewaaraton finalists, an ACC Player of the Year and four IWLCA First Team All-Americans.

With the Terps falling just once in regular season play, Maryland wrapped up the 2010 campaign on a 10-game winning streak, which concluded in elation with a gallant comeback against five-time defending national champion Northwestern in the NCAA Women's Lacrosse Championship. Reese coached Maryland's first Tewaaraton Award winner since Jen Adams as Caitlyn McFadden was tabbed the top player in all of women's lacrosse. Four other Terrapins landed All-America status as well and Reese garnered IWLCA National Coach of the Year honors along with being named the top coach in the conference for the second straight season.

Reese had Maryland on the verge of perfection in 2009, leading the Terps to a 21-1 record, an NCAA Final Four trip and ACC Tournament and Regular Season championships. She boasted three Tewaaraton nominees, five All-Americans, five All-ACC honorees, the ACC Player and Rookie of the Year and the IWLCA Midfielder of the Year.

Reese returned to her alma mater in 2007 as the head coach and guided the Terps to a 16-4 record, including a first-place finish in the Atlantic Coast Conference at 4-1, earning the conference's Coach of the Year award. Reese continued to move Maryland in a positive direction in 2008, steering the Terps to an 18-3 record and an Atlantic Coast Conference regular season title. Once again, Reese boasted some of the top talent in the nation as senior Dana Dobbie was tabbed ACC Player of the Year in addition to being named a finalist for the Tewaaraton Trophy, given annually to the nation's best player.

Reese returned to Maryland after spending her first three seasons as head coach at the University of Denver where she guided the Pioneers to their most successful season in school history in 2006 with a 16-5 record.

Prior to lifting the Denver program to national attention, Reese spent nine seasons in College Park, four as a student-athlete and five as an assistant coach. During that span, the women's lacrosse program had one of the most successful streaks seen in collegiate women's sports history. The Terps won seven national championships in her first nine years on campus.
