Field Hockey and Lacrosse Complex | College Park, Md.

QUICK HITS

• The No. 3 Maryland women's lacrosse team and No. 7 Northwestern will meet on Thursday evening with the Big Ten regular season title on the line. Both teams come in at 5-0 in the Big Ten. The game will air live on the Big Ten Network.

• Maryland heads into this weekend's contest with a 15-1 record and No. 3 ranking. The Terps are on a 13 game winning streak and last week, defeated No. 15 Penn State, 13-8 at the Field Hockey and Lacrosse Complex.

• Megan Whittle (61 goals, 12 assists) leads the team with 73 points, while Caroline Steele (43 goals, 14 assists) stands in second with 57. Whittle leads the Big Ten in many offensive categories, including goals per game (3.81), points per game (4.56) and free position percentage (67.4%) and is third in the country in free position goals per game with 1.81, after scoring a career-best six against UMBC. Steele ranks third in the conference in points (57), third in free position percentage (55%) and fifth in goals (43).

• Last week, Megan Whittle both tied and passed Maryland great Jen Adams for the all-time goal lead at Maryland. Whittle tied Adams with a second half goal against Princeton, which kickstarted a game-ending 7-2 run to cap off a Terrapin comeback. Against Ohio State, Whittle broke the record on free position in the first half, going on to score three more goals, and then five goals against Penn State for a current total of 275. Whittle is currently third all-time in NCAA history in goals and stands 14 goals behind Gail Cummings (Temple, 1985-88) for second all-time.

• In the second half of the season, Megan Taylor has been a force in the cage. The junior has 78 saves over the past 10 games, with only 69 goals allowed, a .531 save percentage and only 7.39 goals allowed per game. Taylor has been key on a Maryland defense that has only allowed its opponent to reach double-digit goals twice over the last 10 games, currently ranking 9th in the country in scoring defense, at 9.06 goals allowed per game.

• Since its inaugural Big Ten season in 2015, Maryland has won all three Big Ten Regular Season Championships, as the Terps currently stand 21-0 in Big Ten regular season games over their four seasons. Maryland will look to win its fourth straight, and 22nd straight B1G regular season game on Thursday.

CATHY REESE

12TH SEASON AT MARYLAND/15TH OVERALL

MARYLAND '98

One of the most decorated coaches at the collegiate level, former Maryland standout and three-time IWLCA National Coach of the Year Cathy Reese led the Terps to their 14th national title in 2017.

As a student-athlete, assistant coach and head coach for the Terrapins, Reese has earned 11 NCAA Championships.

The Terps competed perfection in 2017 as the team went 23-0 and won the program's 14th national title. Maryland won both the Big Ten regular season and tournament titles. Five Terps were honored as All-Americans while Maryland featured the IWLCA National Midfielder, Defender and Goalie of the Year in Zoe Stukenberg, Nadine Hadnagy and Megan Taylor. Zoe Stukenberg went on to win the Tewaaraton Award, Maryland's sixth-straight honoree.

Maryland had a near-perfect season in 2016 as the Terps posted a 22-1 record with the only blemish coming in the national championships game. Maryland won the Big Ten regular season and tournament titles. Five Terps earned All-American honors while six players were named All-Big Ten. Taylor Cummings finished her playing career as the most decorated player in lacrosse, three-peating as the Tewaaraton and Honda Award winner and as the IWLCA National Midfielder of the Year. Alice Mercer garnered IWLCA National Defender of the Year honors.

The Terps garnered their second-straight NCAA Championship in 2015 under Reese. Maryland posted a 21-1 overall record and earned the first-ever Big Ten Regular Season Championship with a 5-0 conference record. Reese was named the IWLCA National Coach of the Year for the third time while Taylor Cummings and Megan Douty repeated as the IWLCA National Midfielder and Defender of the Year, respectively. Five Terps were named IWLCA All-Americans while eight players earned All-Big Ten honors. Cummings repeated as the Tewaaraton Award and Honda Award winner while posting her best season to date under Reese.

Reese led the Terps to their second NCAA title in five years in 2014. Maryland garnered a 23-1 record on their way to a sixth consecutive Atlantic Coast Conference title in the team's last season in the conference. Reese was named ACC Coach of the Year for a league-high seventh time. The Terps boasted six IWLCA All-American, including IWLCA National Midfielder of the Year Taylor Cummings and IWLCA National Defender of the Year Megan Douty. Cummings went on to become the first sophomore to earn the women's Tewaaraton Award. Reese capped the season with IWLCA Regional and National Coach of the Year honors.

The Terps were near perfect in 2013, going 22-1 with its lone loss coming in heartbreaking fashion in overtime against North Carolina in the national title game. Maryland won its unprecedented fifth straight ACC title and senior Katie Schwarzmann won the Tewaaraton Award for the second straight year. The Terps boasted the IWLCA Midfielder and Attacker of the Year in Schwarzmann and Alex Aust. Taylor Cummings was named ACC Rookie of the Year.

Maryland captured its conference-record fourth consecutive ACC title in 2012 and landed in the final four for the fourth straight season. Reese mentored her second Tewaaraton winner - Katie Schwarzmann - and landed four student-athletes on the IWLCA All-America list.

Reese's Terps won their third-straight conference championship in 2011 while landing in the final four of the NCAA Women's Lacrosse Championship for the third consecutive season. Maryland concluded the season with a 21-2 record, falling short in the title game to Northwestern. The Terps put together another stellar season, boasting two Tewaaraton finalists, an ACC Player of the Year and four IWLCA First Team All-Americans.

With the Terps falling just once in regular season play, Maryland wrapped up the 2010 campaign on a 10-game winning streak, which concluded in elation with a gallant comeback against five-time defending national champion Northwestern in the NCAA Women's Lacrosse Championship. Reese coached Maryland's first Tewaaraton Award winner since Jen Adams as Caitlyn McFadden was tabbed the top player in all of women's lacrosse. Four other Terrapins landed All-America status as well and Reese garnered IWLCA National Coach of the Year honors along with being named the top coach in the conference for the second straight season.

Reese had Maryland on the verge of perfection in 2009, leading the Terps to a 21-1 record, an NCAA Final Four trip and ACC Tournament and Regular Season championships. She boasted three Tewaaraton nominees, five All-Americans, five All-ACC honorees, the ACC Player and Rookie of the Year and the IWLCA Midfielder of the Year.

Reese returned to her alma mater in 2007 as the head coach and guided the Terps to a 16-4 record, including a first-place finish in the Atlantic Coast Conference at 4-1, earning the conference's Coach of the Year award. Reese continued to move Maryland in a positive direction in 2008, steering the Terps to an 18-3 record and an Atlantic Coast Conference regular season title. Once again, Reese boasted some of the top talent in the nation as senior Dana Dobbie was tabbed ACC Player of the Year in addition to being named a finalist for the Tewaaraton Trophy, given annually to the nation's best player.

Reese returned to Maryland after spending her first three seasons as head coach at the University of Denver where she guided the Pioneers to their most successful season in school history in 2006 with a 16-5 record.

Prior to lifting the Denver program to national attention, Reese spent nine seasons in College Park, four as a student-athlete and five as an assistant coach. During that span, the women's lacrosse program had one of the most successful streaks seen in collegiate women's sports history. The Terps won seven national championships in her first nine years on campus.
